FIRE DEPARTMENT REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen :

Gentlemen : I herewith submit the report of the condition of this department :

During the year we have had three very bad fires, and owing to the lack of water one of them was very destructive. We have purchased two hundred feet of hose, and made some changes to the wagon.

We have had five public alarms of fire, four of them were in town and one in Hamilton, there has also been four still alarms, which were given by telephone, and they were handled without calling out the department.

This department consists of one hand tub and hose reel, with 300 feet of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch rubber lined cotton hose in good condition and 200 feet of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch rubber lined cotton hose in fair condition.

One supply wagon equipped as follows : Six hand chemicals with extra charges ; six Johnson pumps ; four fire sails ; two fire axes ; two crow bars ; two small fire hooks ; one large fire hook detachable with chain and rope ; two 20-feet extension ladders ; one dozen fire buckets ; 200 feet of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch rubber lined cotton hose in the best of condition ; 100 feet of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch linen hose.

At the Engine House there is one 44-ft. extension ladder ; one large fire hook ; one axe ; and one crow bar.

There are 17 hand extinguishers located as follows : One at Daniel Preston's ; one at Addison Williams' ; one at H. A. Wilkins' ; two at Town Hall ; two at Ivory Quinby's ; one at Harry B. Pulsifer's ; two at Horace E. Durgin's ; five at Center school house ; one at West End school house ; and one at J. Frank Crockett's.

There are four ladder houses and the contents are as follows :

East House—One 22-ft. wall ladder ; one 18-ft. wall ladder ; one 20-ft. roof ladder ; and one fire-hook.

Thompson's Corner House—One 21-ft. wall ladder ; one 19-ft. wall ladder ; one 21-ft. roof ladder ; and one fire hook.

Wenham Neck House—One 22-ft. wall ladder ; one 18-ft. wall ladder ; one 15-ft. roof ladder ; and one fire hook.

West End House—One 22-ft. wall ladder ; one 18-ft. wall ladder ; one 14-ft. wall ladder ; one 20-ft. roof ladder ; and one fire hook.

Respectfully submitted,

HORACE E. DURGIN, Chief.

TREE WARDEN.

Last Spring the tent caterpillars were very numerous. As we did not do any cutting on the highways for moth work, the wild cherry was badly infested. It was thought advisable to spray them, which was done, and proved very satisfactory. Several dead trees were removed also some large limbs which came down in an electric storm.

Signed,

J. D. BARNES, Tree Warden.

MOTH WORK.

Owing to the severe cold weather we have been unable to get the street trees all cleaned. Also very little private property work has been finished.

On the brown-tail work, the fall spraying was tried, which worked out very satisfactory. By not burlaping last season, which was not thought advisable by the State, we find some of the large trees badly infested, with the Gypsy moth. At present the idea is to burlap the large trees another season. We have a number of locations selected for the planting of the wilt disease the coming Spring. The wilt has been planted and worked very successfully in other parts of the State.

Signed,

J. D. BARNES, Local Moth Supt.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

In accordance with a vote of the town a hearing was given to the residents and landowners on the new street leading from Main to Cherry st. to ascertain their preference for a name for the said street. After a friendly conference with those present, and with a knowledge of the wishes of those who were not present, we decided that a majority favored the name of Monument street, and it was accordingly thus named. The original layout of the street having become somewhat obscure it has been resurveyed on each side, and a sufficient number of boundary stones have been procured with which to mark the important points in accordance with the survey. These stones have not been set, but should be in the early spring.

The corner of the highway at the junction of Larch Row with Main st. has long been a subject of reasonable complaint from the abuttors on account of the gradual cutting in of the travel towards the corner of the house situated at that point. After carefully considering the matter it was concluded that the right thing to do was to place curb stones on the outer side of the sidewalk on the corner and for a suitable distance on such street. As a result of competitive bids the work was awarded to Mr. S. E. McGlauflin of South Hamilton.

The defining of the correct line of the highway by the County engineer and obtaining the required approval of the State Highway Commission caused unexpected delay, so that the work was in process much longer than was at first anticipated. We believe the change will prove to be a considerable improvement over previous conditions.

As will be seen by the financial statement considerable expense has been incurred in shaping and oiling the highway on Cherry and Cedar Streets and on Walnut road. While the frequent rains during the fall months caused the work to be of less benefit than in a dry season, yet we are strongly of the opinion that the oiling of any properly prepared section of highway, if persisted in, will prove a permanent benefit. We have an object lesson tending to confirm this view in the present condition of the gravel road in the east part of the town, from Beverly line to the entrance of the Myopia Club. This road (under the care of Mr. W. D. Sohier representing the North shore people), has been brought to its present state by shaping, oiling and rolling each year for the past five years, and as a result the surface at the present time is smooth, hard and unyielding, both summer and winter, as can be seen by any who have occasion to travel over it.

When negotiations were under way for the town's contribution for oiling in Wards one, two and three it was arranged that if the town would put in $250.00 the "shore colony" through Mr. W. D. Sohier as their agent would extend the amount of road which they would shape and oil in 1911.

This extension was from the junction of Larch Row and Grapevine Road to the entrance to the Myopia Club on Walnut Road and to the schoolhouse on Dodge's Row.

The amount expended in these three wards including the blasting and widening, is approximately $4000.

At the last annual town meeting, a vote was passed to the effect that it was the desire of the town that a fire engine company be formed; and in the early part of the year thirty or more of our young men were approved for that purpose. The company was duly organized and a code of by-laws adopted, which were entirely satisfactory to this Board. They have thus far responded promptly to all calls made upon them, and we sincerely hope that they will prove entirely worthy of the confidence which has been reposed in them, and will be truly a source of confidence and protection in times of danger. We have tried to arrange for a conference with the authorites of Hamilton in regard to a system of fire alarms, but have not yet been able to do so.

The $100 which was received last year from Jonathan Brown Jr., of Hamilton was spent for new hose.

As we understood the vote we have tried to carry out the wishes of the town in regard to signs on the Town House building, and have caused to be placed, one for the Town Hall, one for the Public Library and one for the Town Officers. Also on the doors of the Selectmen and Assessors and Town Clerks room. The change has we think met with general approval.

In accordance with the provisions of statute law the boundary lines between Wenham and adjoining towns were perambulated at different times during 1910-1911 in company with the Mayor and Aldermen of Beverly and the Selectmen of the different towns. On the Beverly line fifteen stones were found all in fair condition.

The Manchester line was found marked by six stones, the Danvers line by seven stones and the Topsfield line by six stones.

By an act of the Legislature in 1905, the boundary line between Wenham and Hamilton was somewhat changed, so that from the corner stone between Wenham, Manchester and Hamilton the line runs on a straight course north 69 deg. west to the stone on the Main street near the Hamilton and Wenham R. R. Station, thence north 68 deg. west to a stone near Ipswich river, being the corner bounds between Wenham, Topsfield and Hamilton. The ranging stones between these three points are not all of them now on a straight line, but a careful survey has been made and it is expected this winter or in the early spring the remaining stones will be properly set.

The Selectmen, at a special town meeting, were given authority to proceed with the suits against Fred P. Stanton and the sureties on his bond, or to compromise the matter, as in their judgment they should think best.

Acting under this authority, a settlement was made with all parties without further court proceedings ; releases have been signed and it would seem that the Town would never have occasion to take further action of any kind in the unfortunate affair.

The report of last year showed that the total shortage of the Tax Collector for the years 1907 and 1908 was $5,651.31.

This has been credited by the following amounts :

Rec'd from the bankrupt estate of Collector,	$1,542 79
" " sureties on bond of 1907,	500 00
" " " " " " 1908,	550 00
" " Collector's salary for 2 yrs., (released)	268 00
Total credit,	$2,860 79
Total loss to the town,	$2,790 52
	$5,651 31

The report of our Town Clerk as well as our own recollection remind us that the hand of death has been busy among our older residents during the past year, and it is a singular fact that five of the number have held town offices within comparatively recent years.

Mr. Henry Hobbs who was the oldest taken from us, was a familiar figure in our town, as nearly all his life had been spent here.

He at one time held the position of Tax Collector, and was elected to the Legislature of Massachusetts in the Fall of 1879 representing the towns of Danvers and Wenham.

While he was plain and outspoken in his opposition to many projects that came up from time to time, yet he was kind hearted and hospitable to a marked degree.

He was said to have a larger speaking acquaintance with people in Essex County than any man among us.

Mr. John R. Sargent was appointed Street Commissioner by the Selectmen and served for a portion of the time when that system of caring for the Highways was adopted by the town. He was also chosen a member of the Board of Health for one or more terms.

During the last part of his life he had charge of our street lighting system in which he took considerable pride, and rendered good and efficient service.

Mr. S. K. Evans was for more than forty years a resident, and was much interested in the general welfare of our town. His greatest service in recent years has been as one of our Cemetery Commissioners; and under his care and that of his associates, the cemetery has been made almost literally to "blossom like the rose." Mr. Evans had rare taste and good judgment in the selection and care of plants and flowers, and the place set apart for their cultivation was always a place of beauty in the growing season, and was much admired and appreciated by the many who frequent the place during the summer months. It is only just to say that those who served with him and those who succeeded him were also much interested in the same line of work,

James H. Perkins was a native and a life long resident in different parts of the town except for about ten years, when he lived in Boston, Haverhill, and Plaistow, N. H. For the past forty or more years his home has been in the village. In 1894 he was chosen a member of the Board of Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of the Poor, and remained on the Board by re-election until March, 1900, when he declined further service. Those who were privileged to serve with him, know well that he regarded a public office as an important trust to be administered for the general good, and he brought to the discharge of the duties of the several offices the same care and good judgment that he gave to his own business. Mr. Perkins was naturally conservative in his views, and generally safe and practical in his judgment. For the past few years, failing strength and impaired eyesight and hearing prevented him from active participation in town affairs, but by the help of his children and others who were near him, he was kept fairly familiar with what was going on about him and in the country at large.

Wellington Pool was born in that part of Gloucester which was afterward incorporated as the town of Rockport. He came to this town in 1843, when he was about thirteen years old, and ever after made Wenham his home. For quite a long time he lived with Mr. Joseph Cook on Cherry street, and learned the shoemaker's trade at the time when the prepared stock was taken from the factories and the shoes made entirely in the little shops which were scattered over different parts of the town. He does not appear to have been prominent in town affairs until he was chosen to succeed Mr. Cook as Town Clerk. The work proved to be congenial employment for him, and his service was so entirely satisfactory to the town, that he was re-elected without opposition for thirty-seven years. His records of the meetings and other transactions spread upon our books are models of legible writing and painstaking accuracy, and it would be difficult in all these many pages to find a misplaced or a misspelled word. About the same time that he was chosen Clerk, he was appointed janitor of the Town House and of the church buildings, and to duties of those positions, bestowed the same faithful care. He was also a Justice of the Peace for many years, and was a great help to the veterans in preparing their pension papers. Mr. Pool was a man of decided convictions, and always tried to exert his influence in the right direction and in favor of those measures and reforms which tended to the betterment and general well being of the community. He had a good command of language and when he spoke in public made his subject very plain and easy to be understood by those who listened to him. He was chosen in the Fall of 1900 for the Beverly and Wenham district as representive to the General Court of Mass. He was appointed a member of the Committee on Towns, and greatly enjoyed, and was much benefited by his time of service.

In making the annual report, of the school work of the year, to the town, the first and most important subject is that of teachers. We may have buildings and the best of equipment, but without the right sort of instructors, it all stands for nothing, or worse than nothing, for it means waste.

We do not expect our teachers to make a student of every pupil; the good teacher can only make the best of what the child has.

We do expect our teachers to establish a foundation of elementary knowledge, and avoid the confussion, incident to experimenting with diverse methods.

For the first time in several years, the whole teaching force, with the fortunate exception of the East School has been changed.

The problem of filling these positions, occupied the attention of the Superintendent and Committee during the last part of the spring term, and the work of the fall term demonistrated that the new teachers were taking up their work, with less loss to the pupil, than we usually expect in the change of teachers.

Miss Tarbox came to the Grammar School with a record of efficiency, such as to lead the committee to expect most excellent results, in which they have not been disappointed. Miss Wild, and Miss Cressy, with a good background of theory, and an excellent record in the Normal School, are working in their chosen profession, with an earnestness which promises good results in the school room.

The West School, which only a year ago gave promise of becoming too small to continue as a separate school, has so increased in numbers that it is now ranking with our largest district school.

The Committee were not prepared for this change in the school, and opened the Fall term with the same teacher.

Miss Parker had answered the requirements of the small school, and tried to meet the demands of the larger number of grades, but at the end of the Fall term—Miss Parker resigned, and her place has been filled by Miss Esther Cushing of Beverly as substitute. Miss Ida Burrell, who has charge of the Neck District, is keeping the pupils to well balanced, daily work in the many grades which make up the school. Mrs. Florence Hawkins continues the conscientious work which has been of such benefit to her district during the past two years.

Superintendent Williams will report in detail of the work of the year, and right in line with the report, on the teaching force, the Committee would mention Mr. Williams work with the teachers. To adapt experienced teachers to the requirements of our town, to lead inexperienced teachers to the practical problems of the school room, to bring the schools in all parts of the town into a uniformity of work, have been special features of this year's demands.

In addition to this, Mr. Williams has brought together the teachers of the other towns, Essex and Middleton, which together with Wenham, share his time. Fresh thought, renewed enthusiasm, are always results of such a conference.

While it is not the province of this report to speak in detail of the work of the year, it is with satisfaction that we call attention to the fact that, though we have not the time for drill, possible to a one grade school, the majority of our children can handle their work with an ease and understanding, while demonstrates good foundation. This statement is based on a comparison with children of the same grades, who come to us from other towns, and the standing of our own pupils when going into other schools.

No one year does the work ever come up to one ideal, and it is the work of your Committee to strengthen the weak points and rectify the mistakes.

If parents are disatisfied it will be a favor, if they will bring their complaints either to Mr Williams who directs the work, or to the committee who are directly responsible for it. We would however insist, that complaints be made before commenting before the children in regard to their opinion.

One word from a parent that his boy or girl is not treated fairly or that the school or teacher, is not up to the mark will do more toward putting the child back, than months of work, can build up.

We want your criticism but do not criticize, before your child, and beware of comments from those who do not understand school work.

Let the processes of development be in the hands of those to whom the town has intrusted the school work.

MANUAL TRAINING.

In all educational circles, vocational training is receiving great attention.

In towns with a scattered population, the citizens have felt that they meet all the requirements of the young, if they provide good schools, with the ordinary courses of study; such courses are fundamental and the right of every child.

At the present time, when children attend school so many more years than formerly, and the school system, makes every endeavor to develop the most poorly endowed pupil, the question is raised, if it is not the right of every child to make some effort to develop his manual dexterity, as well as to take some measure of his powers, by manual training as well as by school work.

The Village Improvement Society, which has each summer, supported a sewing school for the girls, desiring to do sonething for the boys, offered to the committee to equip a room, with benches and tools, and pay for a teacher in manual training for six months, to demonstrate whether it would be a wise innovation for the Committee to add to the school work.

Six benches, fully equipped were installed at an expense of $175, and Miss Dearborn who had charge of the manual work in Amesbury has directed the work.

The boys of the seventh and eighth grades bieng given this privilege, a class of eighteen in groups of six have been most industrious in taking advantage of the opportunity.

As this work has been under the supervision of the school committee, it is proper that the report of the teacher should be appended to this report. The practical value of any lesson, is patent to the visitor. Applied mathematics, neatness, accuracy, concentration, is in the atmosphere of the room and one feels, that beside being a test of his manual dexterity, this training is adding to the efficiency and power of every pupil.

Your Committee feel that with the equipment so generously provided, and the practical value of the training, we are justified in asking for sufficient appropration to continue the work.

BUILDINGS.

No special repairs, other than painting the Neck School, have been undertaken this year.

The bulding at the East, has been moved to a location diagonally opposite its former position, on land owned by Mr. F. H. Prince, this land has been filled and drained, and when some improvements are made in the grounds, the school will be better located than before, with a good playground in the rear.

At the time this report is written the boundary fence has not been plaecd, or the deeds passed but the proposition under consideration will give the town for the exchange, a much larger lot of land.

During the coming year this building must be put through repair, owing to the expectation of moving, repairs have been deferred for the past two years.

Your committee ask for the sum of $6660.00 for the conduct of the school during the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE V. BOWDEN.
ELBRIDGE PORTER.
ADELINE P. COLE.

To the School Committee:

I have the honor to present this, my second annual report of the Wenham public schools.

The work of the past year has been a source of pleasure, and we trust to a large degree, profitable. This has been due largely to the interest and thoughtful help on the part of the School Committee, and to the hearty co-operation of teachers, children and parents. With such interest, help and co-operation, the work of the Superintendent is indeed pleasant, and he cannot but feel that the best he can give of his ability, thought and study is none too good for the schools and the community which he serves.

I wish to record here my highest appreciation for all the encouragement and assistance received during the past year.

TEACHERS.

The resignation of Miss Nettie F. Carrell, noted in the last report, caused the only change in the corps of teachers for the year 1910–11. This position in the West School was filled by the election of Miss Ethel M. Parker of Cliftondale, Mass.

At the close of the school year, however, four of the six teachers in the grades, and the Supervisor of Music closed their work in the schools of Wenham. Miss Maud Addlington, for three years the very efficient principal of the Center school, resigned and took a much larger position in Hadley, Mass. Miss A. Gertrude Whitney, after eight years of faithful service in the schools of Wenham, resigned to take a course in Domestic Science at Simmons College. Miss Margaret A. W. Kinnear accepted a position in Salem and Miss Cora O. Reynolds was elected as a regular teacher in the Beverly schools, a well earned promotion for her faithful work for three years in the Neck School.

The work of these teachers in the Wenham schools is too well known to need further comment in this report. Such conscientious and faithful teachers well deserve the best wishes of all for continued success and enjoyment in their new fields of work and service.

Miss Vera L. Tarbox of Marlboro, N. H., a teacher of nine years' experience in all grades of school work, was elected principal of the Center School. Miss Mildred F. Wildes of South Hamilton, teacher of the Intermediate school and Ruth E. Cressey of Beverly, teacher of the Primary School. Miss Wildes and Miss Cressy are graduates of the Salem Normal School, class of 1911.

Miss Ida F. Burrell of Burnham, Me., a graduate of the Eastern State Normal School at Castine, Me., and with a years' experience, was elected teacher of the Neck School.

All these teachers are doing work which promises excellent results for the present school year.

In the Christmas vacation Miss Parker resigned from her position in the West school and took a position in Tisbury, Mass.

Miss Esther M. Cushing of Beverly, for two years a student at the Salem Normal school, is substituting in that postiton.

Miss Cushing is taking hold of the work in this school with purpose and enthusiasm which cannot fail to improve the school very rapidly.

The East school is very fortunate in being the only one not to change teachers. Mrs. Hawkins is an earnest and faithful worker in this school.

Mrs. Genie Fuller Kimball of Topsfield, Mass., a woman of excellent training and broad experience as a teacher, was elected supervisor of music.

For a supervisor of drawing we were fortunate in securing the services of Miss Genorie P. Solomon, of Malden, Mass. Miss Soloman is a graduate of the Salem Normal School and is taking three days, work in drawing each week at the school this year. She brings to this work, therefore good training and exceptional ability.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

In comparing the attendance of the schools for 1910–11 with that of 1909–10 we find an increase of 2.4 per cent. or an average of 94.3 per cent. for 1910–11.

The highest per cent. for the year was in the East school, 98.9 per cent. and the lowest in the Center Primary. This low mark in the primary school is due to the large number of little children in the first grade, where it is not expected that they will brave all conditions of the weather as is done by older children.

The parents of Wenham are to be highly commended for their interest in sending their children to school on time and regularly. The absence of the necessity of any report of the truant officer in this town is a high compliment to the parents of the children of the town. So far as I know that officer has made but one call during the past year.

The teachers have some share in this good attendance as we look to them to create conditions in the schools, which will attract rather than repel the children and in this they are largely successful. Our schools, as they should be, are places of serious pleasure where the children experience the joy of achievement, and this condition has an appreciable effect in the matter of attendance.

BOOKS.

A few changes in books were made during the past year. The remaining books in the Gulick Hygiene series have been added to the list, giving a most excellent course in this important subject through five grades, four to eight inclusive.

Other books placed on the list are Felter and Eginton's Speller, The Stone Millis Arithmetics and the third and fourth books of the Progressive Road to Reading. We have added, also, some supplementary reading in the middle grades.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS.

Only two meetings of the Wenham teachers have been held as it seems impractical where the outside teachers are so far away. One meeting, however, was held at the Center school building, October 23, 1911 which was of great value to the teachers of Wenham. Attending this meeting were all the teachers of Wenham, Essex and Middleton, and most of the teachers of Hamilton, including members of the committees of Wenham and Essex. The program consisted of conferences by grades and an excellent address by Mr. Julius E. Warren, Agent of the State Board of Education on Education for Efficiency. Dinner and a social hour were enjoyed at the Congregational Church Chapel, which concluded the program.

PENMANSHIP, MUSIC AND DRAWING.

Considering the changes in teachers the work in the Palmer Method of Business Penmanship has secured some excellent results. The children are writing a freer, easier, and for the most part, a more legible hand than in the past, although we have not had the system in use long enough to expect the best results except with the older children.

At this time arrangements are made to have a Palmer Writing teacher visit the Wenham schools and give model lessons in penmanship to both children and teachers and also give a talk to the teachers on teaching the subject.

Palmer Method manuals and copy cards have now been placed in the lower grades and with the continued interest and enthusiasm manifested by both teachers and children during the past year, we have a right to expect most excellent results from all schools during the coming year.

A large number of the children have received from The Palmer Co. neat little buttons for the completion of twenty-five drills. The following have received Progress Pins for one hundred drills completed. Florence Underhill, Dorothy Killam, Viola Brock and Isabel Howard, Carl Carey, while in the seventh grade, received a certificate for general excellent improvement.

The time required to teach this method of penmanship is the same as was given to the copy-book system, which is but fifteen minutes a day. But with this rapid, easy movement time is saved in all written work, and other subjects receive the advantage of this time saved.

MUSIC.

The music under the supervision of Mrs. Kimball has improved in all the schools and her work, reinforced by that of the teachers, is producing excellent results. In the East School, especially, where no singing was done during the last part of last year, the children are now learning and singing songs well adapted to the needs of the school.

Considering the larger importance of some other subjects of the curriculum, the time given to music has been shortened in the upper grades. There are now in these grades but three 30-minute periods a week, including the time given by the supervisor. In the lower grades the time allowed is 15 minutes daily, or 75 minutes a week.

Below is given the report of the supervisor of music which is made a part of this report.

DRAWING.

Since there were to be so many changes in the teachers of the town it was deemed necessary to employ again a supervisor of that work.

Miss Solomon, who was appointed to the position, has shown that she has definite and systematic plans for her work, well adapted to all the grades. Both teachers and children are enjoying this work and later in the year they will be ready to show some of the results of the work and its value in the course of study.

An outline of Miss Solomon's plan's is given in her report which is submitted herewith.

READING AND SPELLING.

We now come to two of the most important subjects in the course of study. Without the ability to interpret the printed page and express upon paper his own thoughts, the child is handicapped throughout his entire school life. Therefore we are giving special attention to these subjects.

The progressive road to reading used in the lower grades is producing excellent results. The method is based upon "story-telling," which leads to good expression. Then, when the children have learned the words of the story, they give the complete thoughts with expression that means something to the children and to those who listen.

In spelling we have made some changes which are producing results. We have introduced a book which is a spelling book, and not a language book nor a book of memory gems. In the second place, we have reduced the number of words given in a lesson. In the second, third and fourth grades are given two, three and four words respectively. In the fifth and sixth grades, five words are given and in the seventh and eighth, ten. There are constant reviews both oral and written. The children are taught how to study and teachers are urged to teach spelling more and to test spelling only enough to find out whether or not they have taught effectively. The good old-time spelling matches are coming into use again and we hope to arrange for one or more such matches before the end of the present year.

ARITHMETIC.

We are trying to strengthen the work in arithmetic by making more automatic the fundamental processes. All the number facts should be made purely automatic by eternal drill. For help along this line we have placed in use Supt. Thomas E. Thompson's Quick Oral and Study Number Tests. These sheets are in two series, one for use in the class and one for quick test to be given by the Superintendent. In the higher grades we are trying to master the important principles and processes in their practical applications. We are omitting, or giving but little attention, to such subjects as Present Worth, Compound Proportion, Stocks and Bonds and Cube Root. This does not mean that the children are doing much less work. It means that they are doing much more effective work upon less subjects with a view to the mastery of those subjects. A few things mastered gives more mental power than a smattering of more things.

GRAMMAR.

The subject of Grammar and Language is so broad in its scope and so important in value that one hesitates to outline in detail any plan for all teachers to follow. However there are a few underlying principals that all teachers must recognize in teaching this subject.

In our work we are keeping in mind that a few things must be learned and around these few things, all the rest may be grouped. So we are studying type-sentences and mastering everything in them. Tke text book lessons are based upon the needs of the different classes and these lessons are assigned and learned, and not only are they learned and recited but they are applied in the construction of other sentences.

Breifly outlined, this is the plan in use in our schools, but modified to meet the needs of the different classes.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY.

The course in History follows the Montgomery series, the beginners in the fifth grade, the Elementary in the sixth and the Leading Facts, with half a dozen or more other Histories for supplementary work, in the seventh and eighth grades.

The work in Geography follows the Dodge books from fourth to eighth grades inclusive with additional work in Adam's Commercial Geography. Around the World series and Carpenter's Geographical Readers are read in connection with the study of the text books.

SCHOOL AND LIBRARY.

Every effort is being made to correlate the work of the school with the library. The children are required to do much reading in connection with the work of Geography and

History and the older children are assigned subjects to look up in the library and write upon in connection with these and other subjects.

CORN AND POTATO CLUBS.

In the spring of 1911, the Agricultural College at Amherst, Mass. furnished four potatoes and a small bag of corn for each pupil of our schools who wished to plant and care for them. Quite a large number joined these clubs and raised corn and potatoes.

The Essex County Agricultural Society offered prizes for the best corn, potatoes and other vegetables raised in home gardens by pupils of the public schools.

Following are the names of the successful exhibitors from Wenham and the prizes received:

John Barnes, first prize, potatoes, $2.00; Isabel Howard, first prize, corn, $2.00; Edward Williams, second prize, potatoes, $1.00; Roger Knowlton, two second prizes for vegetables, 50c; Charlotte Rogers, a second prize for vegetables, 25c; B. Hammond Tracy, one first prize, 50c, one second prize, 25c, and one third best; Alice Whiting, one third best for vegetables.

We are confident that the excellent success of our boys and girls in the undertaking of last season will inspire them and many more to greater efforts in this line the coming season. Every effort should be made to encourage them in their endeavors in this most practical and valuable education.

TO PARENTS.

In closing this report, I wish to extend to all parents a cordial invitation to visit the schools often and to bring to our attention any matter that will be of advantage to us in making the schools of greater interest and value to the children, and to the community. The teachers are always pleased to have the parents come to the schools and confer with them in relation to the work of the children. A few minutes' talk with a teacher may be the means of changing the whole life of some child whom that teacher has failed to reach in the most helpful way. If any person outside of the family has the right to know the individual characteristics of the children, it is the teacher whose duty it is to deal with those children in her effort to develop sterling character, power of mind and heart, and train them for efficient citizenship in after life.

Respectfully submitted,

HARVEY R. WILLIAMS,
Superintendent of Schools.

Wenham, Mass., February 2, 1912.

Following are the reports of supervisors of music and drawing:

To the Superintendent of Schools :

Dear Sir :—

In accordance with your request the following report is presented. I trust a brief statement of the work and plans will be sufficient, thus early in my work. It is gratifying to note the interest and spirit of the pupils.

The work arranged for the grades is as follows :

Grades I and II Scale and Interval work, rote and motion songs.

Individual work.

Grades III and IV Work in the First Reader and advanced scale work. Grades V and VI. Written work, two part songs, Grades VII and VIII. Third and Fourth Readers exercises and three part songs.

A voice trained to sing musically and with expression is nearly always of good quality and well modulated in conversation. My aim at present is to develop a smooth pure quality of tone ; and to gain accurate and quick sight reading.

I wish to extend my hearty appreciation to the regular teachers for their earnest and faithful co-operation. I hope, with their help, to gain good results in your schools. It is my earnest desire that parents and friends will visit the music classes often. This means encouragement to pupils and teachers.

Respectfully submitted,

GENIE FULLER KIMBALL,

Supervisor of Music.

Jan. 29, 1912.

Malden, Mass., January 17, 1912.

To the Superintendent of Schools :

Dear Sir :

I began the work of drawing teacher in the Wenham Schools last September, and have found the teachers as a whole, responsive and eager to co-operate. The splendid spirit shown by the children has also helped greatly in the work.

I have tried in general to follow an outline which will accomplish these ends :—increase the ability of the children in appreciating beauty ; give them power to express that beauty; develop in them skill of hand and eye ; and help them to be accurate in their observations.

We started in the autumn with the study of color ; applied it to the drawing in color of autumn flowers and fruits ; conventionalized the blossoms and fruit sprays into units of design ; and applied the designs to the articles made in construction work.

Since the first of this year, object drawing has been our subject. In the lower grades much attention has been given to free-hand paper cutting.

In all cases, I have tried as far as possible to correlate the drawing with other studies.

Respectfully submitted,

GENORIE P. SOLOMON,
Supervisor of Drawing.

Mr. H. R. WILLIAMS, Supt. of Schools :—

Eighteen pupils of the seventh and eighth-grades have been given instruction in manual training since November sixth—, five lessons being given before January first. During this time three models have been done, the plant stand, a metal covered circular stand, and a thermometer mount. The first model given involved the exercises of cross and rip sawing, squaring, jack and block planing, gauging, chiseling, and assembling of parts.

I required the use of fourteen different tools, the cross saw, rip saw, back saw, marking gauge, try square, Jack plane, bench hook, block plane, knife chisel, ruler, brad awl, hammer, nail set.

The succeeding models have each called for new and more difficult processes such as curve sawing, spoke shaving, metal cutting and surfacing, and fitting joints, with the use of turning saw, coping saw, spoke shave, metal shears, etc.

In addition to the use of tools and the exercises connected with them the pupils are given points about the kinds of wood used in their work, characteristics of each, where grown, and the cost.

Respectfully submitted,

LILLIAN DEARBORN.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

TABLE FOR TEACHERS AND PARENTS.

DISEASE	DAYS		DAYS OF QUARANTINE				NOTE
	Incubation	Invasion	After exposure	After recovery	After attack	Do not admit to school until	Pupils having any of these diseases are by law excluded from school. A Board of Health certificate is required for the first four diseases. In other cases admit to school with physician's certificate or sometimes with mother's certificate in accordance with the time given in this table.
Diphtheria	2-7	.....	12	14	.....	After negative culture, no bacilli.	SYMPTOMS Gray or brown patches on tonsils, white membrane in throat, bloody or irritating nasal discharge, enlarged glands at side of neck, fever, sometimes croupy cough. Some say may be carried in clothing.
Scarlet Fever	2-7	1-2	14	14	42.56	After sore throat and scaling of skin disappears.	Vomiting, sudden fever, red sore throat, red tonsils, enlarged papillæ on tongue, flushed skin, fine scarlet rash on chest and neck in from 12 to 36 hours, sometimes pale ring about mouth. Most contagious from scales of skin from 9th to 42d day. Often carried in clothing.
Small Pox	9-12	2-3	18	14	18	All scabs have disappeared.	Chill, headache, vomiting, pains in back, rash like scarlet fever or like measles, fourth day rash on forehead. May be carried in clothing.
German Measles	8-16	few hrs.	7-10	.....	14	Three days after recovery of last case, with certificate, 14 days without.	Rash, catarrh, slight fever. Mild scarlet fever resembles this; be careful.
Measles	8-14	4	16	3.14	14		Watering eyes, sneezing, nasal discharge, cough, sometimes sore throat, rash on back of neck and forehead, small dark red spots, 4th till 7th day; skin peels 8th till 13th or 18th day. May be carried in clothing.

Chicken Pox	13-16	few hrs.	18	14	14	All scabs have disappeared, 14 days after recovery of last case in family.	Small red pimples on face; vesicles filled with turbid serum; changing to black or brownish crusts on body or scalp. Small pox may be mistaken for this disease.
Mumps	14-21	.....	20	.....	20	Seven days after swelling and tenderness disappear.	Neck glands swollen, lobe of ear raised, chewing and sour tastes painful, headache, vomiting, depression. Seldom contagious before symptoms appear. Rarely if ever carried in clothing.
Whooping Cough	6-10	1-4	.....	.....	42	After end of spasmodic coughing.	A hard cold for 10 days, spasmodic cough, whooping 10th to 40th day, thick nasal discharge, vomiting. nose bleed. Rarely if ever carried in clothing.
Influenza (Grip)	1-7	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	Chill, fever, vomiting, more sudden onset and slower recovery than common colds. Contagious. Usually send home children with fresh sudden sneezing colds. If not sent home, children with colds should be seated in front row.
Sore Eyes Pink Eyes	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	Till cured or certificate.	NOTE: Many eye diseases are contagious. Do not take risks, beware of towels and handkerchiefs.
Ring Worm	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	Till cured or certificate.	Parasitic, bald patches on scalp, scabby patches on body. Recommend that a physician be consulted.
Impetigo Contagiosa	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	Till cured or certificate.	Parasitic, rough, scabby sores, especially when skin has been broken. Beware of towels. Recommend that a physician be consulted.
Lice (pediculosis)	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	Till cured.	Recommend three applications of lard and sulphur, or crude petroleum for three hours, soap suds following, on three successive days. Fine comb with vinegar or alcohol for nits.
Itch (scabies)	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	Till cured.	Parasitic, itching sores between fingers, on wrists, and on back of hand. Recommend applications of lard and sulphur, or crude petroleum.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES—Continued.

Tuberculosis Open Closed	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	Till cured Certificate	"Loss of appetite, weakness, languor, listlessness, are among the early signs. Pallor, marked anæmia, loss of weight, excessive emaciation, the presence of enlarged glands in the neck, are indications that there is something wrong. If in addition to this there is a cough, with or without sputum, the child should most certainly be examined by a physician."
Tonsilitis	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	Till cured

Incubation is the time between exposure and first symptoms. Invasion is from first symptoms to eruption or marked disease.

Please notify the Superintendent and School Physician in writing of all known cases of tuberculosis, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance and eczema. In center schools require a certificate from the Superintendent or a physician in all cases of peeling hands. Colds and influenza are probably contagious. Exclude pupils with sore throat until cured or until they bring a certificate.

Stamp out measles by having the second crop occur at home. From eighth to fifteenth day after first outbreak exclude from class all who have not had the measles, notifying parents to watch for symptoms.

Pupils exposed to mumps or whooping cough may attend school provided watch is kept for symptoms.

Pupils exposed to diseases "carried in clothing" may not attend school until after the days of quarantine as above, without a physician's certificate. [Charles F. Adams, Superintendent of Schools, Spencer, Mass.]

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

OF THE

TOWN OF WENHAM

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1911.

BEVERLY:
THE ALLEN PRINT.
1912.

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

To the Citizens of the Town of Wenham:

The Board of Trustees of the Public Library respectfully submit their Annual Report for the year ending December 31, 1911.

The increased circulation of the library and the increased number of borrowers, are in themselves a good proof that the library is extending its usefulness, and being enjoyed by more people.

The Trustees, in the early part of the year, decided to employ an assistant, in order that the patrons of the library should not be subjected to the tedious waiting, incident to one person's endeavoring to serve so many in a limited time.

Miss Addie Alley was chosen for this position, and her assistance has greatly simplified the distributing of books; many have expressed their appreciation of her kindly assistance and willingness to meet their needs.

The Trustees would take this occasion to suggest to those desiring to use the library, that when possible, it will be greatly to their advantage to come to the library during the first hour of opening, from three to four, and thus avoid the crowded condition which follows the closing of school, when the children come, with their own and their family books to exchange.

Another extension of the service of the library has been the opening on Saturday afternoons.

At first the circulation on this additional day was not large, but there has been a steady and healthy increase until we are now averaging thirty-seven books each afternoon.

Although a large purchase of juveniles was made last year, it has seemed necessary again to add a considerable number to replace worn-out books, and to keep up with the increased juvenile circulation.

All the fiction which has been added to the library has been carefully reviewed, and the public have the opportunity of reading the best of the new books.

The Woman's Educational and Industrial Union have loaned two valuable collections of photographs, which have been hung upon the walls, and used by the schools in supplementing their work in geography.

There is one branch of the library work which has been much extended, but of which we cannot give statistics, and that is the circulation of reference books by the school children. This is a move in the right direction, for the more the young people learn to expand and enlighten their history and geography, by outside work, the greater grasp they have of the subject, and the library stands as one of the props of our educational system, as well as one of our pleasures.

The reading room, with its splendid collection of magazines, is not used by adults in proportion to the opportunities offered. Neither is there a large circulation among the magazines which can be taken home.

The Trustees have felt that this was due to a lack of habit, rather than to a lack of appreciation, and with the coming year, some tally system will be made, whereby we may know just how much the magazines are used, as a guide to expending the yearly appropriation.

Much to the regret of the Trustees, one of their number, Rev. W. S. Eaton, ceased to become a member of the Board, upon his removal from town. Dr. Eaton had always regularly attended the meetings of the Trustees and considered faithfully the conditions and problems of the library.

The Selectmen and Trustees filled the vacancy by the election of Mr. H. R. Williams for the remainder of the year.

The statistics of the library, new books, and gifts will be found in the Librarian's report.

The town knows full well of the painstaking and careful work of Mr. Conant, as custodian of the Public Library, these many years; and the Trustees need make no comment upon so long tried a service.

Respectfully submitted,
RUTH H. PRINCE,
Secretary Board of Trustees.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

At the beginning of the year 1911, as may be seen by reference to the last annual report, there were several bills which had been incurred in the latter part of the year 1910, but which had not been presented for approval and payment until after the report of that year had been closed.

In the following statement, the bills chargeable to each year's account have been given separately, and the total amount expended will be found to correspond exactly with the Selectmen's account.

FIRE DEPARTMENT REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith submit the report of the condition of this department.

During the year we have had only a few slight fires, with no great damage done, we answered a call from Hamilton and the hand engine worked well.

This department consists of one hand engine and hose reel with 300 feet of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch rubber lined cotton hose in good condition and 200 feet of the same kind of hose in fair condition.

One supply wagon equipped as follows:—six hand chemicals with extra charges; six Johnson pumps; four fire sails; two fire axes; two crow bars; two small fire hooks; one large fire hook detatchable with chain and rope; two 20 feet extension ladders; one dozen fire buckets; 200 feet $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch rubber lined cotton hose in good condition; 100 feet $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch linen hose.

At the Engine House there is one 44-foot extension ladder; one large fire hook; one axe; and one crow bar.

There are 17 hand extinguishers located as follows: one at Daniel Preston's; one at Addison Williams; one at H. A. Wilkins; two at Town Hall; two at Ivory Quinby's; one at Harry B. Pulsifer's; two at Horace E. Durgin's; five at Center schoolhouse; one at West End Schoolhouse; and one at J. Frank Crockett's.

There are four ladder houses and contents are as follows:—

East House—one 22-ft. wall ladder, one 18-ft. wall ladder, one 20-ft. roof ladder, and one fire hook.

Thompson's Corner House—one 21-ft. wall ladder, one 19-ft. wall ladder, one 21-ft. roof ladder and one fire hook.

Wenham Neck House—one 22-ft. wall ladder, one 18-ft. wall ladder, one 15-ft. roof ladder and one fire hook.

West End House—one 22-ft. wall ladder, one 18-ft. wall ladder, one 14-ft. wall ladder, one 20-ft. roof ladder and one fire hook.

Respectfully submitted,

HORACE E. DURGIN, Chief.

MOTH WORK.

The Gypsy and Browntail Moth work, as a whole the past season, has been very satisfactory. Our street trees are in a far better condition than a year ago, especially the browntail work. At this writing the street trees are all cleaned, also nearly all brush removed from roadsides, also a large part of the private property work finished.

Signed,

J. D. BARNES.

TREE WARDEN.

Last season it was thought advisable to use what money we had in removing dead wood from the trees around the square. There is considerable more in the same line that should be done this season.

It will also be very necessary to spray for the elm leaf beetle, which are quite numerous in the center of the town.

I have also found several cases of Leopard moth work.

The State appropriates no money for the extermination of the elm beetle or Leopard moth, therefore the Town should appropriate some money for this line of work.

We have 4,500 street trees and the past appropriations have been too small to properly care for them.

Signed,

J. D. BARNES, Tree Warden.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

As will be seen in the financial statement in another part of this report, one of the largest items of expense has been the building of the two sections of macadam road on Cedar and Cherry streets, and it seems proper that a brief report should be made in regard to their construction. Early in the season we decided to ask the advice of the District Supt. of the Mass. Highway Commission in regard to materials to be used and the best methods of construction. Mr. Pillsbury very readily consented to help us in any way that he could, and after a careful examination reported that in his judgement a considerable amount of soil and loam underlying the surface should be removed and replaced by some more solid material better suited for an even foundation for the macadam. This extra work, with other plans proposed would make the cost more than we proposed or anticipated, but after carefully considering the matter we thought it would be the wisest thing to do, and as soon as specifications could be prepared, proposals for building the road were advertised for in newspapers one each, in Boston, Salem and Haverhill. On June 4th the proposals received were opened at the rooms of the Commissioners and the lowest bidder was found to be Mr. T. A. Moynihan of South Hamilton and he was awarded the contract after filing a suitable bond. The prices named were 55 cents per cubic yard for all excavations, 65 cents per cubic yard for all borrowed material, $2.00 per ton for broken stone in place and 25 cents per square yard for all bituminous surfacing. Mr. M. commenced the work promptly and we fully expected that the work would practically be completed by Aug. 15th. But after the excavations were made and the filling completed unexpected delays were experienced on account of not being able to procure suitable help, breakage of machinery at the quarry, etc. The contractor evidently tried to push things all that he could, and the members of this board were in frequent conference with him, but he was handicapped in so many ways that the broken stone was delivered on the road so very slowly during the months of July, August and the most of September that it was about Oct. 1st before Cedar street was opened for travel. Mr. M. showed no indications of any desire to slight the work in any way and we feel quite confident the two sections were built strictly in accordance with the contract, and we are assured by the Assistant Engineer, who had the supervision of the work that they represent the last word in macadam road building as now practiced in this State. By the direction of the Engineer the town was required to employ a weigher at the quarry to weigh and keep an account of all the stone hauled, which although it added somewhat to the total cost was probably the safest thing to do. The final report of the Engineer showed that the amount of excavation was 1400 cubic yards; of borrowed material 1125 cubic yards; 1445 tons broken stone, and 3300 square yards of bituminous surfacing. As will be seen in another page of this report the amount expended on Cherry street was taken from the sum appropriated for extra highway purposes, under the general authority given to the Selectmen to use the said appropriation where most needed.

Early in the season when the conditions for walking were quite bad on Monument street a desire was expressed that something be done towards building a sidewalk on the said street. Mr. B. M. Smith offered to contribute $50.00 and Mr. R. M. Smith $25.00 towards the cost of the same and Mr. L. E. Libby volunteered to give all the material needed. We thought the offers too good to be passed over and decided to proceed with the work. As a result of competitive bids, the contract for filling the lower portions of the way was awarded to Mr. T. M. Barnes at 30 cents per. cub. yard. A substantial guard railing was also built where it seem to be needed as a precaution against accident.

As completed the walk is a decided improvement and may possibly assist in the development of the property beyond. Dangerous places at the western end of Monument street and on Pleasant street near the house of S. M. Knowlton have been protected by suitable railings. The amounts expended in ward six have been larger than usual, but the conditions there were rather unusual, and will probably not occur again for some years. The Topsfield road leading from Maple street to the Topsfield line has been an unfailing source of trouble and expense for many years. This road is but little used by our own people but is quite largely used for pleasure travel during the summer months. We recommend that an effort be made to procure from the Mass. Highway Commission, for use on this road, an appropriation from the "Motor Vehicle Fees Fund" in accordance with the provisions of Chap. 525 of the Acts of 1910.

We understand that the Commission usually require that a sum equal to this appropriation be furnished by the town.

The following statement received from Wm. D. Sohier, shows the amount of work done in Wards One, Two and Three on Grapevine Road, Rubbly Road, Walnut Road, Larch Row and Essex street.

Repairs and patching,	$1,249 55
Oiling and improvement,	1,155 62
Stone guard rail,	198 50
Widening at school house,	235 95
		$2,839 62

AMOUNT PAID BY THE TOWN OF WENHAM.

Repairs,	$200 00
Oil used on Walnut road,	49 50
Stone guard rail,	75 00
Total paid by Town of Wenham,		$324 50
Balance paid by subscribers,		$2,515 12

The Selectmen also appropriated from the amount raised for General Highway Repairs, the sum of $50.00 for the use of the Surveyor in Ward One and also $50.00 for the use of the Surveyor in Ward Three, but this last amount was not expended.

No money has been spent on Ward Four this year. The Selcctmen made an appropriation of $100.00 for this Ward, but the Surveyor has not done any work there.

Under authority given at the last annual Town meeting arrangements were made for the widening of Cherry street, opposite the residence of George W. Julian, but delays from various causes kept occurring and the work has not yet been done.

As a matter of interest to the Town we are able to report that by the will of Hattie E. Batchelder of Boston, widow of E. Everett Batchelder, formerly of this town, a legacy of $1,500 is given to this Town in trust, the income to be used for Cemetery purposes—$1,000 to be used for general repairs and care, and $500 for the care of the lot on which Mr. Batchelder was buried.

Respectfully submitted,

N. PORTER PERKINS,
CHAS. H. McQUEENY,
ARTHUR D. PRINCE.

	$19,560 00

The recommendation for schools is made with the provision that if any money is available from the Mass. School Fund for use during 1913, said sum shall be deducted from the $7,685.00 and only the balance raised by taxation this year.

Under Article 4, it is recommended that the following vote be passed:—That the Town Treasurer, with the approval of the Selectmen, be and hereby is authorized to borrow money from time to time in anticipation of the taxes of the municipal year beginning Jan. 1, 1913, to an amount not exceeding in the aggregate $10,000 00 and to issue a note or notes therefor payable within one year, any debt or debts incurred under this vote to be paid from the taxes of said municipal year.

Under Article 5, it is recommended that $100.00 be appropriated from the sum raised for Town Incidentals, for the expenses of Memorial Day, the same to be spent under the direction of the soldiers and sailors of Wenham. The balance of the appropriation, if any, to be spent at the discretion of the Wenham Veteran Association.

Under Article 6, it is recommended that a sufficient sum be appropriated from the treasury to pay the State and Military Aid for the current year.

Under Article 8, it is recommended that the matter be left in the hands of the Selectmen, either to renew the present contract or to make a contract with some other company.

Under Article 9, it is recommended that the sum of $110.00 be raised and appropriated for the purpose of extending the street lighting system on Larch row by the addition of five lights.

Under Article 10, it is recommended that no action be taken.

Under Article 11, it is recommended that the sum of $75.00 be appropriated from the sum raised for Town Incidentals for the purpose of making a copy of a cemetery record book prepared by the late Wellington Pool and that Mr. Benjamin F. Young be a committee to carry out this vote.

Under Article 12, it is recommended that the sum of $250.00 be appropriated from the sum raised for Town Incidentals for the purpose of putting the town clock in repair.

Under Article 13, it is recommended that the matter be left in the hands of the Selectmen and if any money is needed it be taken from the amount raised for Extra Highway Work.

Under Article 15, it is recommended that no action be taken.

Under Article 16, it is recommended that the Town authorize the Selectmen to petition the Mass. Highway Commission for an appropriation from the "Motor Vehicle Fees Fund" to be used on Topsfield Road, so called; and also that the Town appropriate a sum of money from the Town Surplus equal in amount to that which may be appropriated by the said Commissioners, not to exceed one thousand dollars.

Under Article 17, it is recommended that $55.00 be appropriated from the Town Surplus for the purpose of providing a snow plow for use in East Wenham.

Under Article 18, it is recommended that the buildings on the "Old Parsonage Property" be sold at public auction.

Under Article 19, it is recommended that a sufficient sum be appropriated from the Town Surplus for the purpose of building a section of macadam road on Arbor street, from its junction with Main street to a point at or near the street leading to the new schoolhouse.

ARTHUR D. PRINCE,
Clerk.

The increase in enrollment through-out the town, indicates the presence of a vital growing community, which looks to the school system, to share in a large degree, in its devolopment along strong and healthy lines. The town has in every way shown its desire to make the schools, and the opportunities for the children, the best that any town can supply. This desire is shown by the generous appropriations, the ready sympathy, and hearty co-operation, in every effort to increase school efficiency.

Your committee, feeling this spirit of co-operation, and realizing the confidence placed in them, have tried, in this period of unrest, change and constant reaching out for an educational system, better adapted to the complex life of today, to keep steadily in mind a consistent policy—; while moving along conservative lines, to reach out for what new methods seemed sufficiently tested and adapted to our needs, and while not adopting or trying the various "cure all" plans of public education, we are keenly watching and studying all experiments.

A careful canvas of the enrollment for the fall term convinced the committee, that the time had come for the opening of the fourth room in the Center School. During the summer, the room was furnished with desks, and seats, and in September the Center School became a four room school with two grades to a room and allowing the first year to be sub-divided as occasions demanded. This condition we have long desired, but until now, the enrollment did not seem to warrant the additional expense.

The frequent change of teachers in the West School, have kept it below standard for over two years, and the committee felt particularly anxious that this should not continue, believing that time or money should not be spared to bring the school where it belonged. The increase in numbers made this doubly important. A very healthy beginning has been made—by Miss Coppinger a teacher particularly interested in rural work—and with a good record of results to her credit. We look to the end of the year—to find a school improved and nearer to the standard we have set for it.

The school expense is increasing and certainly will not decrease for a long time—and the causes of this increase are easy to understand, if we study the statistics of this report.

Larger enrollment forms an increased population—

Increased cost of supplies--

Increased expense of repairs and up keep—

Necessity of higher salaries to teachers—

The policy of your committee has been this year to secure the best teachers, and to keep them when they proved efficient.

This will mean an increase, not large, but an increase in the salary estimate.

With the great increase in wages in all mechanical industries, the professions have been slow to secure a corresponding increase, to meet the increased expense of living. The profession of teaching is beginning to feel this, and the public in order to make teaching attractive to the kind of men and women, whom we want to direct our schools, must be willing to pay salaries, which a corresponding intelligence could secure in other lines of work.

The citizens of Wenham desire all their schools to be a stopping place for good teachers, not a training school for young teachers.

The "Wenham Superintendents Union" as it is now called—of which Wenham was one of three towns to share the services of Mr. Williams the Superintendent—has undergone some very important changes.

At the spring election of Superintendent the State Board in view of the fact that the Union was small, consisting only of 18 schools in the towns of Wenham, Essex, Middleton—desired to add Topsfield to the group. Hardly had the fall term started under this new arrangement, when the Union was again asked to include another town; this time Lynnfield. This makes a Union of five towns, widely scattered and difficult of access. It is too soon yet to comment upon the results of these changes, At the end of the school year, there will be a better understanding of the efficiency of such widely scattered supervision.

The repairs and improvements of school buildings have been particularly large.

In addition to the furnishings at the Center School the West School has been repaired and painted, and the East, repaired extensively and improved.

During the year, the teachers, superintendent and committee have worked together from different points of view toward the same goal of increased efficiency; the teachers in their daily routine having the inspiration and directions of a superintendent who from constant association with other teachers and other schools, could easier see the weak places and point the way to correcting them. The committee with a yet more general perspective have tried by their occasional visits and frequent conferences to bring school and the actual problems of living into more normal relations.

With the more general adoption of specialized work and vocational training, the problems of the school increases. While our aim is to meet the need of every child, we realize that this is our ideal towards which we may only reach, and that school in our town is the most successful, which finds and meets the requirements of the largest number of children.

GEORGE V. BOWDEN.
ADELINE P. COLE, Secretary.

Since this report went to press the School Board has lost its oldest member, Mr. Elbridge Porter, who died on the twenty-ninth of January. The following resolutions were placed on the school records and sent to his family.

Resolved—That in the death of Mr. Elbridge Porter, the oldest member of the School Committee, the town loses a most faithful officer.

Mr. Porter was for thirty years a member of the School Committee, during which long period of service, he showed continued interest in the welfare of the schools and contributed in every way possible to make them better.

By his death the town not only loses a faithful officer, but the School Board, a faithful co-worker and the schools a loyal friend.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT.

To the School Committee:

I have the honor to submit my third annual report of the Wenham public schools.

It is a pleasure to be able to record the same hearty co-operation by all concerned in the schools of Wenham that has characterized the work in previous years. The school committee, the teachers, the parents and the children have worked together for one united purpose, the highest efficiency for every department of the school system. Such united effort has resulted in the high standing the schools of Wenham are now enjoying.

TEACHERS.

The schools of Wenham have been unusually fortunate during the past year in the few changes that have occurred in the teaching force. At the beginning of the fall term

Miss Burrell, teacher in the Neck school last year was transferred to the fifth and sixth grades at the Center school and that vacancy was filled by the appointment of Miss Genevieve R. Cassens of Camden, Maine. Miss Pauline Coppinger of Needham Heights, Mass., was secured for the West school. These two new teachers have proved beyond a doubt that the committee were fortunate in their selection.

The additional teacher at the Center school, making it possible to give but two grades to a teacher, has greatly strengthened the work, as it gives each teacher more time to devote to the regular program, and much more opportunity to help the children individually.

ORGANIZATION OF PLAYGROUNDS.

Next in importance to well organized school rooms is the organization and careful direction of the play grounds, especially in the larger schools.

Such organization and careful direction has been carried on in the Center School during the past year. The hundred or more children have been divided into groups according to grades, and each group has had its place on the grounds, and its own games. During the spring term, through the efforts of the teachers and children, money was raised for the purchase of a game of volley-ball, two croquet sets, two games of ring-toss, and bats, balls and a mask for base-ball. Each school in town is furnished with a book of games for both the play-grounds and the schoolroom.

The close supervision of play for the teaching of games and general instruction, is carried on only at recesses and the children are allowed other times for free play, but they make use of most of the games taught in all the free play.

During the teaching of games and at such times as the teachers may determine, all children are required to play in their respective groups; teachers excuse any child who may be in bad physical condition or who seems to suffer any ill effects from playing the games. Only games suitable for normal healthy children are to be taught for use on the grounds.

The results of this organization and direction of the play grounds are very noticable and most desirable. There is greater sympathy between the teachers and children, less tendency to quarreling and bullying, less rough and boisterous play in which clothes are torn and a general good effect on the discipline of the entire school.

FREE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

It may be well for boys and girls over fourteen years of age to know that they may attend any of the new Industrial schools in Massachusetts under the provisions of the following act:

Section 7 of Chapter 471 Acts of 1911, says.

Art. 1. Any resident of any city or town in Massachusetts which does not maintain an approved independent industrial, agricultural or household arts school, offering the type of training which he desires, may make application for admission to such a school maintained by another city or town. The board of education, whose decision shall be final, may approve or disapprove such application. In making such a decision the board of education shall take into consideration the opportunities for free vocational training in the community in which the applicant resides; the financial status of the community; the age, sex, preparation, aptitude and previous record of the applicant; and all other relevant circumstances.

Art. 2. The city or town in which the person resides, who has been admitted as above provided, to an approved independent industrial, agricultural or household arts school maintained by another city or town, shall pay such tuition fee as may be fixed by the board of education, and the commonwealth shall reimburse such city or town, as provided for in this act. If any city or town neglects or refuses to pay for such tuition, it shall be liable therefor in an action of contract to the city or town, or cities and towns, maintaining the school which the pupil, with the approval of the said board, attended.

The most available of the sixteen free industrial schools in the state for Wenham pupils are the Beverly Industrial School (for boys), Boston School of Printing and Bookbinding (for boys and girls), Boston Trade School for girls and the Lawrence Industrial School (for boys and girls).

Circulars describing the courses given in these schools may be obtained upon request.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The program of studies in the schools is much the same as was given in the last report. A plan for systemizing the work in written composition has been introduced in all the schools of the Wenham District. The purpose is to avoid repetition of work in the successive grades, and to provide a general outline for all teachers to follow.

SPECIAL SUBJECTS.

The teachers of music and drawing are the same as last year and their work is along the same lines as were outlined in their reports.

The teacher of manual training, secured late in the fall, is Mr. Winfield H. Lunt of Marblehead. There are sixteen boys of the seventh and eighth grades receiving instruction in this work.

Most of the teachers are giving some work in raffia and reed and other haud work for both boys and girls, all of most valuable assistance in the regular work of the school.

HOME GARDENS.

Through the kindness of Congressman A. P. Gardner and the co-operation of Prof. Hart of the Amherst Agricultural College, hundreds of packages of seeds, potatoes, corn and beans were given to the children last spring for their home gardens. The reports of the children and the produce sent to the Topsfield Fair showed that the "Home Gardens" were a success. But to make this work of the most value to all the children there should be some plan for following up the work during the summer and giving the children help and encouragement at the time when they most need such encouragement, to bring about the best results. Some new plans are being formulated by the State College for the coming season and we very much hope that some way may be found to second those plans and carry them forward to most successful results.

SCHOOL RECORD SYSTEM.

There is in use in all but one of the towns of the Wenham District a card record system. This system consist of an "Admission, Discharge and Promotion" card for each pupil in the schools which follows him through his entire course and contains important data concerning his attendance, standing and progress in every grade and room through which he passes. There is also a duplicate "Office Record" card in the hands of the superintendent. This card is kept up to date by means of reports from the teachers on a third card for that purpose. The Office Record card remains in the hands of the superintendent, after the child has graduated or left school, and to it may be added any inportant data concerning his after life. A little work in keeping track of the pupils who go out from our schools, would furnish for this record much information that might be of value in later years.

We are also keeping a progressive card record of the results of the sight and hearing tests from year to year and a duplicate card record of all text books used in the schools. Each teacher has in her room a set of cards, one for each set of books, giving the number of books in each set in the room, and the superintendent has duplicates of these cards giving, in addition to the number of books, the condition of all books. When any new books are added to the list or books are transferred from room to room the cards are changed thus revising the record to date.

Below are given the forms of the slips used, filled in to show how the record is kept up to date.

TWENTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

OF THE

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1912.

TO WHICH IS APPENDED

A LIST OF THE BOOKS ADDED TO THE LIBRARY DURING THE YEAR.

BEVERLY:
THE ALLEN PRINT.

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

To the Citizens of the Town of Wenham:

The Board of Trustees of the Public Library respectfully submit their annual report, for the year ending December 31, 1912.

The Library has continued in the care of Mr. Benjamin Conant who this year completes his twenty-second year as librarian in Wenham.

On the days when the library is open, Mr. Conant has had the assistance of Miss Alley, which has helped avoid some of the waiting incident to serving so many people in a limited time.

The increased circulation of the library especially among school children give good reason to feel that steady progress is made in extending the use of the library. Mr. Williams has noted very carefully the books read by the pupils in the different grades in Wenham and other towns; in this comparison Wenham leads both in the amount and quality of reading.

The circulation of the magazines has also increased and the trustees would remind the public, that the following magazines are available for circulation. American Country Life, Garden Magazine, Good Housekeeping, Ladies Home Journal, Everybody's Magazine, Popular Science Monthly, World's Work.

We are again indebted to Dr. Phillips for the subscription to several magazines noted in the Librarian's report, to Mrs. H. E. Pingree for the Illustrated London News, and to a friend for the Christian Science Monitor. In order that the library might have a still larger sphere of usefulness, the Trustees voted in November that each borrower might have the privilege of taking two books, on one card, a fiction and a non-fiction. Notice to this effect was posted on the bulletin board and printed in the local papers.

We have availed ourselves of the traveling library from the Amherst Agricultural College, which was placed on the open shelves for two months.

The Woman's Educational Industrial Union have also loaned valuable collections of photographs, which beside the general pleasure they gave to all the library visitors, have been of use to the teachers in their school work.

Every book added to the library during the year has been carefully reviewed, that the very best might be secured for the varying needs of the town. While the bulletin will give a complete list of accessions, it may be of interest to speak of the Essex Institute Historical Collections, 16 vols.; Topsfield Historical Collections, 13 vols. and New England Historical and Genealogical Register, 5 vols., from the library of the late Wellington Pool. Such complete sets are of particular interest to our community, and will soon be difficult to obtain, so that the trustees felt justified in taking advantage of the opportunity to secure them. They have also received as a gift from the estate of Mr. Pool a complete set of Town Reports from 1860–1910, bound in 5 vols.

Mr. Smith as Chairman of the Publicity Committee has prepared a type-written list of "Good Things" from the magazines, each month, which has been posted on the bulletin board, also articles of special interest along the line of current events. Everyone using the library feel specially indebted to Mr. Smith for his gift of a clock which has long been needed.

The trustees have held ten monthly meetings, July and August being taken for a vacation season. These monthly meetings aside from the regular business, have been made helpful, by the report of the work of some library visited, to one member of the Board during the month. In accordance with this custom, the libraries at Chelsea, Salem, North Amherst, Harrison, Maine, and Boston have been visited. This policy has helped to keep us in touch with other libraries, large and small, the better to understand library methods and with this better understanding, the better to fulfill our obligations to the town.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH H. PRINCE,

Secretary of Board of Trustees.

REPORT OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN:—In years past it has been customary for the chairman of the Board of Fire Wards to submit an annual report of the Fire Department. By consent of Ex-chairman and Chief of last year's Board who held over into part of the present year, the report of the years 1913–14 will be submitted under the head of the Board of Engineers appointed in the latter part of the year under Chapter 36 of the Revised Laws of Massachusetts, said Chapter having been accepted by the Town at a special Town Meeting.

The Engineers appointed were Ivory Quinby, Levi S. Lord, Horace Kilham, James E. Kavanaugh, and Sumner Brown.

The Engineers met and organized with the choice of Ivory Quinby, Chief; Levi S. Lord, Assistant Chief; Horace Kilham, Clerk.

The Engineers proceeded to organize a Fire Company by the appointment of the necessary Enginemen, Hosemen, Laddermen and Chemicalmen. The names of members constituting the list of Engineers and Firemen are as follows:

ENGINEERS.

Ivory Quinby, Chief,
Levi Lord, Assistant Chief,
Horace Killam, Clerk,
Sumner Brown,
James E. Kavanagh.

CHEMICAL MEN.

While the citizens of the Town have met with no very heavy losses of property by fire during the past year, the community has been greatly saddened by the suffering and the loss of the young life of Mrs. Jaquith, who, in her heroic effort to save life and property unfortunately sacrificed her own. The great losses of life and property by the use of kerosene fixtures should impress upon the minds of every person the necessity of using the greatest care in using the same. The apparatus for extinguishing fires is in as good condition as can reasonably be expected. In addition to the regular apparatus, the Town spraying machine has been placed in the Engine House and is in commission in case of fire. The greatest drawback in making a quick response to an alarm of fire is the difficulty in getting horses at the present time (and has been for years) to draw the apparatus. Wenham is not alone in this respect, for the Country at large has experienced the same difficulty and are solving this problem by installing motor driven apparatus which is becoming universal. A great help in the care of the present apparatus in cold weather, has been the installation of hot water heating system, obviating the necessity of removing chemicals and other things liable to freeze, to warmer quarters. The members of the company greatly appreciate the privilege of having a comfortable place to spend an evening or a day in bad weather.

They have resolved to conduct themselves in a way becoming a Fireman or Citizen and the Engineers have assured them of their co-operation in maintaining discipline that will be a credit to the Company and the Town.

Respectfully submitted,

IVORY QUINBY, Chief Engineer.

REPORT OF MOTH WORK.

At this writing the street trees are all cleaned of the Gypsy and Browntail moths also all brush removed from the highways.

The condition in general is much improved from last year.

I will also say, that we have fewer Browntail moths, than any other section of the State.

As far as we have been on private property, we also find fewer moths than last season.

Signed,

J. D. BARNES, Local Supt.

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN.

Our trees have again been visited by ice storms, causing considerable damage. We have one or two elms on the Main street, which are in bad condition, to which I have called the State's attention.

By the town adopting the electric lighting system, it was necessary to do some cutting, which was done by the company in a very satisfactory manner.

The greater part of the work done this summer has been thinning out the small branches so that the street lights would show to better advantage. Last season I called your attention to the Leopard moth, which I find this season, in all sections of the Town. On private and street trees, also fruit and ornamental. I have specimens of their work also larvre, should anyone care to see them. We have by spraying our street trees, also controlled the elm leaf beetle. In some cases on private property on the Main street, there are elm trees badly infested with the beetle.

Signed,

J. D. BARNES, Tree Warden.

DOGS.

The total number of dogs licensed in Wenham for the year of 1913 was sixty-four (64), viz. males, fifty-six (56), females eight (8). Also two breeders' licenses were issued, one at twenty-five dollars ($25.00), one at fifty dollars ($50.00). The sum of two hundred and thirteen dollars and eighty cents ($213.80) was paid to the County Treasurer.

HUNTERS' LICENSES.

The total number of hunters' licenses issued for the year of 1913 were forty-three (43) at one dollar each.

The sum of forty-three dollars ($43.00) was paid to the Fish and Game Commissioners.

Attest,

WILLIAM P. PORTER,
Town Clerk.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

The contract between the Town and the Welsbach Street Lighting Co. of America for lighting our streets expired on the 24th of July, 1913, and some sixty days previous to this date we were notified that they would not renew it at the former price. A conference was arranged with a representative of the company and the lowest figure that they would give was $30.00 per light per year for service for twenty-five nights per month until 12 o'clock each night.

So acting under authority given at the last annual town meeting, "either to renew the present contract or to make a contract with some other company," the matter was taken up with the Beverly Gas & Electric Co.

After several conferences and an inspection of their system of lighting, a contract was made with them for a term of three years to furnish one hundred and twenty or more tungsten lights for every night in the year, and until one o'clock each night at a cost of $21.25 per light.

One hundred and twenty-one lights are now being furnished under this contract.

If one were asked off hand which department of the town used the most money they would reply in the majority of cases "schools"; but this is not the true answer for the year 1913, as it appears after all the figures are together that over thirteen thousand dollars ($13,695.90) have been spent on our highways.

Of this amount the Town has furnished $8,895.90, the Commonwealth $1,500.00, and William D. Sohier, Agent, $3,300.00. These figures do not include the cost of the relocation of Grapevine road at the Beverly line. Part of this change is in Beverly at a total cost of $5,665.43.

The largest single item, out of the appropriation for Extra Highway work, was for the widening of Hull street at an expense of $868.14. After asking for bids on this work the contract was given to Mr. Charles E. Whipple at 58c per cubic yard for filling. The road was unusually narrow at this point and in some former year the town has paid a bill for damages because of an accident occurring there.

The work on Topsfield road and Cherry street was done under three different contracts, but by the same contractor, Mr. Charles E. Whipple. Before the first contract was given out bids were asked for, and as Mr. Whipple's price was the lowest, 40c per cu. yd. for excavation and 80c for borrow and he being satisfactory to the Highway Commissioners was given the contract.

The second and third sections of this work were done under contract at $1.00 per cubic yard; the Highway Commission and Selectmen making a contract with Mr. Whipple, without competitive bids. The total cost of this work was $3,018.14. Of this amount the town paid $1,268.14, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, from the Motor Vehicle Fees Fund, $1,500 and Mr. William D. Sohier, Agent, $250.

The contract for the work on Arbor street was given to Mr. T. A. Moynihan, after advertising for bids to be opened at the office of the Highway Commission. This contract was made under the "unit" system: 40c per cubic yard for excavation; 50c per cubic yard for borrow; 24c per square yard for bituminous surfacing and $1.95 per ton for stone. In the carrying out of this contract there were made 574 cubic yards of excavation, 1,830 cubic yards of borrowed material, 2,852 square yards of bituminous surfacing and 1,233.73 tons of stone were furnished. In regard to the matter of gutters on this street, referred to the Selectmen at the special town meeting, a small amount of work has been done, the ground freezing before all had been completed that had been planned. At the present writing there has been only one thaw that would in any way test their capacity but at that time a large amount of water was carried off in a short time and none from the street found its way on to the sidewalk. With some more attention after the frost is out in the spring we trust that their condition will be generally approved.

At the last annual meeting it was voted "that the annual report of the Town of Wenham shall hereafter contain a separate surplus account, including the surplus on hand at the commencement of the year, the additions thereto during the year and the source of such additions: also the charges thereto during the year and the authority for such charges. Likewise the surplus at the end of the year and of what it consists."

As the "Balance in favor of the Town" as reported for several years is to a certain extent a matter of estimates, it will be readily seen that no balanced account can be given, and besides two columns of cold figures without any explanation would not be very easily understood and rather unsatisfactory. So for these reasons it has been thought best to incorporate the called for "surplus account" in this report.

The balance in favor of the town on Dec. 31, 1912 was reported as $9,772.91 and to this would naturally be added all the money which has come into the town treasury, which is not assigned to any definite department.

The state and county tax for 1913 was over $1,450.00 more than it was in the proceeding year, and rather than raise the tax rate, the assessors thought best to make the overlay small, so only $126.08 was available from this source. If you will refer to the report of the Treasurer you will notice that money was received from Longham assessment, rent of Town Hall, town weigher, insurance policy, licenses, town history and parsonage buildings, amounting in the total to $320.44 and as no department could claim any of this amount it goes to the general fund. The largest source of revenue which is added to the surplus account this year is an additional assessment for the year 1912 of $2,838.88 and the December assessment for 1913 of $3,235.88.

The payments from this account during the year have been $5,735.22 for roads and $57.49 for a snow plow which was authorized at the last annual meeting and $336.43 for fire department, authorized at the special town meeting.

In addition to these amounts, the discount allowed for the early payment of taxes $176.72 and abatements of taxes $37.28 must come from this so called surplus as there is no other provision made whereby they can be cared for.

The estimated "balance in favor of the Town" on Dec. 31, 1913 is $9,646.56 and consists of cash and uncollected taxes.

At the last annual meeting it was also voted "that the Selectmen be requested to incorporate in the next annual printed report of the town, an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue of the town other than local taxes for the then current year (1914) the source of such revenue and the uses to which it may be lawfully applied."

In compliance with above request, we give the following information. The main sources from which we expect revenue for the coming year, are the National Bank tax, Corporation tax, Street Railway tax, all of which are assessed by the tax commissioner; and the excise tax of the Bay State Street Railway Co. which is assessed by the local assessors from a sworn statement furnished by the Vice-President and Treasurer of the company.

It seems rather presumptuous for us to estimate the amount that will be received from these various sources, for it depends on so many uncertain conditions; for instance—who is living in the town on April 1st.; how they have their money invested; do their investments pay any dividends; are the street railways run at a profit; and the action of the present legislature. But we can say this, that the assessors in making up their levy are allowed to deduct the revenue to be received from outside sources, but under the provisions of Section 37, Chapter 490 of the Acts of 1909 "such deductions shall not exceed the amount of such receipts during the preceding year.'' These ''receipts'' for 1913 are printed in the report of the Treasurer. Let us hope that they will be as large the coming year.

All of this revenue which is assessed by the Tax Commissioner comes to the town without restriction and can be used for any purpose for which the town can legally appropriate money. This is not the case with the excise tax of the Street Railway Company, for Section 47 of Chapter 14 of the Revised Laws provides that it ''shall be applied toward the construction, repair and maintenance of the public ways and removal of snow therefrom within such cities and towns.

As we attempt to write this part of the report we are reminded especially of the loss to this Board and to the Town, in the death of Nathaniel Porter Perkins on April 29, 1913; for Mr. Perkins always spent much time and care in preparing for the printer his part, which was a large part of the ''Selectmen's Report.'' Probably not within the memory of many of us or possibly of any of us has a man been taken from the public life of this town, whose career was so long and service more efficient.

Mr. Perkins was born in Topsfield but in his very early years came to Wenham and spent the rest of his life here. The first year that he became old enough to vote, which was in 1862, he was elected to the school board and almost without exception he had held some prominent office ever since, so for over half a century he gave to the citizens of Wenham of the best that was in him, counting it an honor to be their servant.

He served the towns of Danvers and Wenham in the Legislature of 1885 and always kept himself well informed of the doings on Beacon Hill.

If he could have lived to complete his term of service to which he was last elected as an assessor he would have served thirty years in this department of town government. He was well informed in taxation laws and has been complimented by state officials for his clear insight into these matters. He also made a study of the settlement laws of the Commonwealth and if any person was receiving aid from this town, there was no doubt but what they had a legal claim to it.

He made the business of the town a personal affair and gave all matters that came to him for decision, the same careful, intelligent attention that he would have done if the bills were to be paid from his own purse.

He often represented the town beyond our boundaries and it was always with the same gentlemanly dignity which brought credit to himself and honor to our citizens. In all his public life, unconsciously to himself, he was binding himself to the town with a "rope as soft as silk and as strong as steel".

On May 18th public memorial services were held at the Congregational Church when Hon. Alden P. White gave the address, before several hundred people who gathered to pay tribute to his name.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES H. McQUEENY,
ARTHUR D. PRINCE,
ELMER E. CLARKE.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MOTOR FIRE APPARATUS.

To the Citizene of the Town of Wenham:

The Committe on Motor Fire Apparatus respectfully submit their report.

At the first meeting of the committee, it was decided we should visit some of the surrounding towns owning and operating motor apparatus. We then visited the towns of Danvers, Lynnfield, Wakefield, Saugus and Marblehead. In all these places we received very favorable reports, as to the cost of upkeep and the work accomplished. Danvers and Saugus are using the combinaton chemical and hose car, while Wakefield and Marblehead are using the triple combination car, consisting of chemical, hose and pump.

The cost of upkeep in all these places was found to be exceedingly low, often being as low as $100. It was very difficult to get the exact cost owing to not being able to locate the engineers.

All towns visited employ permanent men to handle the trucks and in every case the towns were equipped with fire alarm systems. These two things seem necessary in order to get the best service from these trucks.

Because of the employing of at least one permanent man it proved to be an added expense, which to some minds would mean a large debt to the town. In most places the salaries paid would not exceed $1,000 per year. The repairs on all trucks are taken care of for the term of one year by the builders unless repairs are caused by careless use, this in many cases helps to keep the cost of upkeep very low.

In all cities and towns the saving in time of arrival at fires was found to be of great advantage and in many cases the means of saving many thousands of dollars worth of property.

The machines in all places visited were found to be too large for use in small towns like Wenham, therefore it became necessary to take the matter up with the manufactures. Respresentatives from the Knox, White, American-LaFrance, Webb and Boyd Companies appeared before the committee and spoke of the different types of machines.

Owing to the lack of water supply in the town it was found that the pumping engines as built at present were too large for this town. Therefore it became necessary to find a company willing to build a car of a type suitable for small town work.

In this matter we found that O. F. Kress & Son, of Lawrence, would build a car using a 40 horse power White chassis equipping it with a 300 gallon capacity pump, two 35 gallon chemical tanks and hose body capable of carring from 800 to 1,000 feet of hose.

This car would be fully equipped with lights, axes and pony chemical, also ladders and necessary tools. This car would be a valuable asset to the town and capable of doing good work. This car would cost approximately $5,000.

Another car which seems to be a very desirable type was a forty horse power chassis, equipped with two chemical tanks, of sixty gallons capacity each, ladders and full equipment, without a pump. This car is built by the Knox Co. of Springfield, Mass., and costs approximately $5,500. This car is a standard type and capable of doing good work.

The car using the water pump seems to be the best adapted to the use of the town, owing to the use of water being necessary in many cases. If the town should decide to purchase a truck at any time the committee deem it advisable to place the car in charge of a permanent man, capable of giving this piece of apparatus the best of care.

There are many types of trucks suitable for the transporting of fire apparatus, but these are not standard machines and not made for fire department use. These range in price from $1.500 to $3,500.

The committee feel it would be to the town's best advantage in purchasing a machine to purchase a standard type. While the committee does not recommend the purchase of a machine, they feel that some action should be taken at the annual town meeting.

Provided the town should decide to purchase a truck the committee would suggest that a sum of money not to exceed $5,000 be raised and appropriated.

Respectfully submitted,

Although printing a report of the progress of the schools at this time, is in accordance with a long established custom, the committee always feel that the report is of necessity disjointed, as we report, not a continuous school year, but halves of two different years.

Each school year, the supervisors, outline a slightly different plan to secure the best results, and arrange a little different curriculum, so that each year expresses a complete thought undertaken and carried through with varying degrees of success.

The completion of the first year of the Center School, as a four-room building, shows that the change was made none too soon. If the increased registration, did not of itself justify the addition of the fourth room, the better grading and increased time available for each study would be ample compensation for the increased expense.

The aim of the District Schools remains the same, to secure the greatest amount of work in the least possible time.

The West School has for so long been the cause of much anxiety, that it is a special pleasure to report, that during the past year it has grown to approach, our ideal of a rural school.

Though the school is now larger than it has been for many years, thereby increasing the handicap of more and shorter recitation periods; there is an alertness, and a desire to excel and a spirit of co-oporation, which makes an atmosphere favorable to the best kind of growth.

In the East School, the pupils have again become so few as to make the committee feel that the best interests of the school demand consolidation. The committee feel that this small group of children would be benefited by being thrown with other children. We notice defects and localisms which persist from year to year and will be sure to persist until the constant admonition and correction is replaced by an atmosphere where such defects are peculiar and the child itself corrects them. Transportation to a larger school looks at the present to be not only a necessity, but an advantage to this school.

The committee voted in June to give the girls of the 7th and 8th grades sewing once a week, during the same periods, that the boys are doing their manual training. It is too soon to report any results, but the girls have taken up the work with a good deal of interest and enthusiasm.

Repairs have been a small item for the year. Sundry repairs at the Neck School, and a new stove have been the largest items.

School work in company with all our modern appliances of living, each year becomes more complicated; individualism and liberty of expression are the watch words of modern educators.

We desire our town to give to its children, all that experience shows is true progress. We feel that the first eight years of school life, should be devoted to giving each child a working familiarity with the tools of the schoolroom, reading, writing, arithmetic and the ability to express himself intelligently. In addition to this, just as much knowledge of the world about them as they are able to assimilate.

There is danger in too much supplementary work and too many illuminated texts, however attractive they may be to both teacher and pupil. Too much illumination produces confusion; the child grows strong by effort and the brain grows in power, only as it is exercised. Teacher, Superintendent and Committee, have at all times to watch carefully, that our school rooms are laboratories of restrained experiment.

We submit to you the Superintendent's report, and desire to express our appreciation of his work and interest during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE V. BOWDEN, Chairman.
JAMES H. PERKINS,
ADELINE P. COLE.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT.

To the School Committee of Wenham:

MADAM AND GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit my fourth annual report of the school department of Wenham.

If in presenting the school reports we could increase the efficiency of our schools, secure more active co-operation between the school and the home, or accomplish any other very definite purpose, then, indeed would the time spent in preparing such reports be of value. But as they are generally a series of congratulations to ourselves and the people that these things exist to a large extent in our town, it seems to be more or less a waste of time.

If, therefore, this report departs from the plans of previous years, it will not necessarily mean that the same good features do not exist as they have in the past, but that it seems unnecessary to repeat the same things in the reports year after year, and the departure is made in the hope that some ideas may be presented which will serve a real purpose.

In the first place, there should be a closer connection between the work of the school and the interests and activities of the home and the community.

The idea has too long obtained that the school is a place entirely apart from the common activities of the life of the community, that it is a place where children are concerned almost wholly with books and very little with anything that serves to make their lives more useful in the home and more enjoyable in the community.

But we are beginning to realize that the school is the place for systematically enlarging upon the experiences of the children in the home and elsewhere; that it is time for children to express their own thoughts, develop their own powers and initiative, and to have a conscious and responsible part in the life they are living.

The school that does not build upon these outside experiences, does not lead the children to express their own thoughts freely, does not develop in them a serious responsibility for performing whatever work they have to do, and especially the harder tasks, and send them out from school each day stronger and better boys and girls; that school is not doing its duty by the children nor fulfilling its responsibilities to the community.

So, that our children may be prepared to enjoy the refined pleasures of life as their school days go by, we teach in the schools not alone the rudiments of an education, but also music, drawing, manual training, sewing, basketry, etc., and in the management of the school we try to have the children practice kindness, courtesy, unselfishness and self control in their little school community, that these virtues may become a part of their characters and influence their conduct in their activities in any community.

This does not mean that the three R's are neglected. It means that they are better and more easily taught, because the children are led to see that they have some uses outside of the books in which they are found. Drill and hard work there must be, but not for purposes so far in the future that children seldom realize the meaning of it all until that future is reached.

The following plan for co-operation between the home and the school is taken from a recent bulletin issued under the direction of the State Board of Education.

The school should encourage the boys and girls to help in the work of the home. Some schools are keeping records of home work. The boys usually report on helping mother, the care of animals, garden work and shoveling snow; and the girls on cooking, sewing and housework.

The children compare reports and strive to excel one another in the amount of home work.

The reports are filed and kept in the school ready for inspection by the superintendent, members of committee, parents or other visitors.

The following is a copy, names omitted, of the report of a thirteen-year-old girl.

If the schools are to do this larger work in the communities of which they are a part, then the communities must take a very active interest in the schools. Parents should visit the schools to become acquainted with the teacher and know more definitely than the reports can give the work their children are doing, and their general attitude towards the school and its work. They should give the teacher such information about the children as will help her to deal with them in the most intelligent way. If any person in the world has a right to know the children as the parents know thèm in the home, it is the teacher of the school they attend. A few minutes talk with the teacher might be the means of changing the whole life of some child whom that teacher has failed to reach in the most effective way.

It is encouraging to record in this connection a very active interest in the schools on the part of the people as is manifested by the organization of the Wenham Home and School Association at the Center School and the very enthusiastic meeting of the parents of the children in the Neck School held early in the year. Plans are being made for a similar meeting at the West School. Such meetings are of great value from the point of view of the foregoing argument for better co-operation between the home and the school.

The one subject in our course of study which concerns us most at the present time is reading. We are giving this branch much attention because we have had to recognize the fact that we are not getting the results which are absolutely necessary to the sucess of all other work in school. The children read words, page after page, but are unable to grasp the thought. This they plainly show in their failure to get definite and clear ideas from the pages of geography and history or to grasp the meaning of the statements of simple problems in arithmetic. To overcome this defect in our school work and give the children a better preparation for their other work, the teachers are supposed to have in use above the fourth grade the following plan in reading. (a) Oral reading of a few carefully chosen pieces for drill and expression. These pieces are to be studied for all the meaning there is in them and read until that meaning can be interpreted by proper expression. (b) Systematic excercises in silent reading for training in thought getting. The children must learn to interpret the printed page and be able to give in substance what they read. (c) Silent reading of magazines and books. (d) The oral reading to the class by individual pupils of articles of general interest which have been selected by the children and approved by the teacher.

This plan was outlined and explained to the teachers of the Wenham district by Mr. Juluis E. Warren, Agent of the Board of Education at a meeting held in Salem early in the year, and we expect that, if followed in the proper spirit, it will much improve the reading in our schools.

There was but one change in the regular teachers during the past year. Miss Wildes resigned to take a position in Hamilton and her place was filled by the election of Miss Florence Appleton of Beverly, a graduate of the Salem Normal School in 1913. Miss Beatrice A. Randall, of Rochester, N. H. a special student at the Normal School, is supervisor of drawing and Mr. Roland S. Stebbins, instructor in drawing and manual training in Manchester, is in charge of our work in manual training. After careful consideration of several candidates, Miss Mary J. Wilson of Salem was selected to take charge of the work in sewing.

In closing this report, I wish to record the same hearty co-operation of all connected with the schools that has existed in previous years and express my fullest appreciation of the assistance given me by the committee and all who have helped to make my work with the schools most pleasant.

Respectfully submitted,

HARVEY R. WILLIAMS,

Superintendent of Schools.

TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

OF THE

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1913

TO WHICH IS APPENDED

A LIST OF THE BOOKS ADDED TO THE LIBRARY DURING THE YEAR.

BEVERLY:
THE ALLEN PRINT.
1914.

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

To the Citizens of the Town of Wenham:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully submit the annual report for the year 1913.

The general work of the library is well known to all who are its patrons, and those who do not go to the library regularly, will find in the statistics of the librarian, just how many, and what kind of books are being read and purchased.

For the convenience of those who desire special books, or have suggestions as to improvement, a question box has been placed by the door, and from it the Trustees have been glad to receive several requests.

The periodicals have been circulated more generally, but the attendance in the reading room has not increased, and some magazines are rarely read; it seems best that such magazines should be discontinued, to be replaced another year, if there is a demand for them.

One of the demands of library patrons is for quicker service of new books. It is not practical with our appropriation and population to buy more than one copy. Last year the trustees tried to keep the new books in more active circulation by not allowing renewal. This year, beginning January 1, all new books of fiction, new—meaning books that have been in the library less than a year—shall be seven day books.

The repair and mending of books is a large item in the proper upkeep of a library. Through the courtesy of the Public Library Commission, Miss Tillinghast gave a day to Wenham and instructed the trustees in the proper method of book mending and rebinding. The library also received a complete equipment for the work from the same source.

A valuable gift from Mrs. John A. Burnham has been an atlas of the towns of Wenham, Hamitlon, Essex, Ipswich, and Topsfield. This atlas is of intrest and value to all ages, and a special table has been purchased to make it easy for consultation. Dr. J. C. Phillips has again favored us with the gift of four valuable magazines. We are indebted to the Wenham and Hamilton W. C. T. U. for the subscription to The Union Signal. Other gifts of books have been received from Mrs. Pingree, Mrs. Pickett, Mrs. Neilson, and Mrs. Richards. We have again been the recipient of books and pictures from the Woman's Educational Association.

During the summer a specially good collection of books of travel, was placed at the disposal of the library.

The trustees earnestly desire that the library shall be more frequently visited. The librarian is always ready to grant permission to adults to go to the book shelves and become more familiar with library resources.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH H. PRINCE,

Secretary of Board of Trustees.

Wenham, Feb. 6, '15.

REPORT OF THE CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1914.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN:—In submitting a report for the year closing Jan. 1, 1915, there are only a few changes from the year previous. The losses by fire have been very small compared to other Towns in general. We have had six alarms for fire in Town, three for buildings and three for grass. Poultry buildings of Mary C. Burnham, total loss $1,000.00. Cottage of Alenson Daniels, damage $100.00. Barn and store-house of B. Hammond Tracy, loss about $5,000.00. Since the new arrangement with the Telephone Co. the firemen are able to get the alarm in a very few minutes either night or day. In case of fire, to call for help, telephone Hamilton 140 Wenham Fire Deparment—that calls the office at the Car Barns and they cause the bell to be rung on the Church. In every case it has worked to perfection. Other improvements consist of the installation of a fire escape at the Town Hall and making the settees stationary while in use by order of the State Police. A new fire cistern has been built near the house of H. E. Pingree on Main street which is now full of water. This completes a line of cisterns the length of Main street. Water now can be used on all buildings on or near the street. Other cisterns are being built from year to year in various parts of the Town which will insure us a good water supply in case of fire.

The fire company is seriously handicaped at the present time in responding to an alarm of fire for lack of some power to haul the pumping engines and if the voters do not take some course to remedy the situation immediately the department can avail nothing. The property of the department remains the same as the previous year except the addition of 200 feet of new 2½ inch fire hose.

Respectfully submitted,

IVORY QUINBY, Chief Engineer.

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN.

Last season your attention was called to the Leopard moth. This year we had an appropriation of $100.00 from the Town, also $100.00 from the State for the suppression of the Leopard moth. I made a contract with the Beverly Gas & Electric Co. for 10 arc lights for two months for $190.00. We suspended pans partly filled with oil, under each light, which worked out much to our satisfaction. We captured 8 gallons of solid moths, but owing to discoloration, from the oil, it was very difficult to distinguish the different specimens clearly. It was very expensive to tend the lights daily, so only followed them for six days. In that time we were sure of 102 Leopard Millers. In the matter of trees we planted 30 European Lindens and 20 Sugar Maples. We have several large elms in different localities which should have the deadwood removed. I also wish to call your attention to the row of Willows on the causeway, Walnut street, which are in very bad condition. The tops are dying, and it would be advisable to cut them back 10 or 15 feet, which will improve their shape and make them safe to the traveling public.

J. D. BARNES,
Tree Warden.

10 files.
2 screw drivers.
1 lineman's belt.
2 pair opera glasses.

Wenham, Jan. 1, 1915.

At this time the street trees are about all cleaned and most of the brush has been removed from the sides of roads. There has been a very marked decrease in the number of Brown Tail moths owing no doubt to some extent to the arc lights that were installed in different parts of the Town. The Gypsy moth seems to be quite numerous although not so many as last year. On the whole I think our trees both shade and fruit are quite free from moths.

DOGS.

The total number of dogs licensed in Wenham for the year of 1914 were sixty-seven (67), viz.: males, fifty (50), females seventeen (17). Also two breeders' licenses were issued, one at twenty-five dollars, ($25.00), one at fifty dollars ($50.00).

The sum of two hundred and forty-six dollars and twenty cents was paid to the County Treasurer.

HUNTERS' LICENSES.

The total number of hunters' licences issued for the year of 1914 were sixty-one (61) as follows. Sixty (60) at one dollar ($1.00) each; one at fifteen dollars ($15.00).

The sum of seventy-five dollars ($75.00) was paid to the Mass. Fish and Game Commission.

Attest,

WILLIAM P. PORTER,

Town Clerk.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

One of the most noticeable changes as one enters the centre of the town is the absence of the "old primary school building" from its original location, beside the Town Hall building. By authority given at the last annual town meeting the building was sold at auction for $80.00, and is now located on the opposite side of Friend court and facing its former abiding place.

The Town Hall yard has now been graded on the East side to correspond to the West side and a hedge planted at the rear of the lot running from Friend court, nearly to the Town Hall building. Nearly all of the filling required for this work was waste material from highway work on Arbor street.

The fire escape on the Town Hall building, as required by the State Inspector of Buildings, has been built and placed in position by Est. of Paul Patten of Salem, Mass., at a cost of $145.00 exclusive of carpenter work.

You will remember that a few years ago the selectmen were authorized to widen a short piece road on Cherry street in front of the residence of Mr. Julian. Mr. Julian was very anxious to save the trees and so the work was only partially done at that time. The property of Mr. Julian has now come into the possession of Mr. Leveque and arrangements were made with him whereby it was agreeable to have some of the trees cut down and the others moved back. The work has now been completed so that the road at this point is as wide as at either side.

The improvements on Larch Row as authorized at the last annual Town meeting at an expense not to exceed $3,000.00 have been completed at an expense of $2,684.46 but not including the cost of the oil used on about one-tenth of a mile next to Main street.

The gravel in this work was hauled by contract at thirty-three cents per cubic yard. The Town furnished men to fill the carts and spread the gravel at day labor prices. Of the amount expended, the Town has been reimbursed by the County of Essex, $1,137.00 making the expense to the town $1,547.46. Now that the street is in first class condition we recommend oiling the whole of it this year.

Of the amount spent for general highway work, $188.72 was spent on sidewalks. Main street from the polo field to Cherry street; 2,000 feet on Cherry street and 1,000 feet on Cedar street were the points receiving the greater part of this amount. $100.13 was spent on Maple and Burley streets; $89.86 on Cherry street; $357.18 on Arbor, Porter and Perkins streets and $423.38 on Topsfield road and Cedar street. We would make appreciative mention of the fact that Mrs. Mary C. Burnham contributed one hundred and forty loads of gravel for Topsfield road and Cedar street thus materially reducing the expense to the Town.

Four catch basins have been built and two jobs of blasting have been done, one on Cherry street near Flint street and the other on Topsfield road near the Beverly line.

The following streets have been oiled:—

Cherry street from Cedar street to Topsfield road thence to the Topsfield line,	with tarvia,	2.4 miles
Cedar street and Topsfield road,	" "	1.2 "
Walnut road,	" "	0.6 "
Dodges row,	with light oil,	0.7 "
		5.3 miles

The Commonwealth paid $500.00 toward the work on Cherry street and Topsfield road and the Town all of the rest for the above mileage.

In addition to this Hon. Wm. D. Sohier, agent, takes care of 4.9 miles at East Wenham and Wenham Neck toward which the Town contributes $300.00. The whole of Main street 1.9 mile is State Highway and is oiled at the expense of the Highway Commission. This makes in all 12.1 miles of our streets which receive some sort of oil preparation. The streets which are not oiled are as follows:—

Part of Larch Row,		1.5 miles
Part of Arbor street,		0.3 "
Part of Topsfield road,		0.7 "
Monument street,	2,210 feet
Perkins street,	1,560 "
Porter street,	2,072 "
Maple street,	5,280 "
Burley street,	2,400 "
Friend court,	1,084 "
Lake avenue,	1,180 "
Grover street,	560 "
Pleasant street,	1,138 "
Linden street,	387 "
School street,	880 "

This makes practically six miles of street which has not been oiled or about one third of the total mileage.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES H. McQUEENY,
ARTHUR D. PRINCE,
ELMER E. CLARKE.

ABSTRACT REPORT OF TOWN MEETINGS, 1914.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE

Appointed to Oppose Further Legislation Respecting the Salem and Beverly Water Supply to be derived from the Ipswich River.

The Committee organized electing Mr. Anderson as Chairman and Mr. Hosmer as Secretary.

This Committee was appointed by the Town for the purpose of opposing any further legislation in behalf of the Salem and Beverly Water Supply Board, seeking to vary or amend the Act creating that Supply Board, to wit,—Chapter 700 of the Acts of 1913.

At the time of the appointment of the Committee there were in existence two proposed Acts. One was House Bill No. 1563 accompanying a petition of the Salem and Beverly Water Supply Board which was filed with the Legislature on January 22, 1914. The other House Bill No. 1564 which was a bill accompanying the petition of Allison G. Catheron providing that the Salem and Beverly Water Supply Board be authorized to take certain lands for the purpose of improving the quality of the water obtained from Ipswich River and Wenham Lake which was filed on January 22, 1914.

House Bill No. 1563 attempted to amend the original Act by authorizing the Salem and Beverly Water Supply Board to divert and take the waters of the Ipswich River at any point on said river between the Newburyport Turnpike and Lamson's Bridge and pending the construction by the said Board of Works provided for in Section 4 of the original Act, the said Board and the City of Beverly were to be authorized to sell and deliver water to the Town of Hamilton on such terms as the Board and the Town and the City may agree.

The original Act, Section 4, provided that the Salem and Beverly Water Supply Board might take and divert the waters of the Ipswich River at a point on said river in the Town of Topsfield, not more than three thousand feet easterly of the Newburyport Turnpike. In that section of the original Act, also, it was provided that: "no lands necessary for storing the water or preserving the purity thereof shall be taken or used under the authority of this Act, nor shall any dam, reservoir, filtering bed or other work for diverting, storing or improving the water, be located and constructed without first obtaining the advice and the approval of the State Board of Health".

The original Act, Section 4, further provided that in the manner of taking the water from the River and supplying the same to said cities, the said Water Supply Board shall conform to all such reasonable regulations as may be made from time to time by the State Board of Health not inconsistent with the Act.

This left, under the original Act, a chance for this Town to be heard before the State Board of Health in respect to those matters.

The situation created by the Acts proposed in the 1914 Legislature was believed to be of vital importance to this Town and this Committee procured the services of Elbridge R. Anderson as an attorney to represent the Town on this special matter before the Special Legislative Committees, and through his advice procured the services of Charles Metcalf, an engineer, for the purpose of getting together sufficient data so that the effect of the taking of the water at the various points provided for in House Bill 1563 would be proved and realized.

That bill was extremely broad and indefinite. There was no location of the places where the waters of the Ipswich River were to be taken between the Turnpike and Lamson's Bridge. It was believed that it did away with the section of the original Act giving to the inhabitants of the Town of Wenham and other Towns affected hearings before the State Board of Health as to the places and the means by which the waters of the Ipswich River should be diverted.

This committee believed that it was not such an Act as should be passed, because it gave to an irresponsible Board the power to divert the waters and take lands for the purpose of diverting them and doing damage to the people who have no chance to be heard in regard to the matter in any way.

In an examination of House Bill No. 1564, the Committee ascertained that the Act was an extremely broad one and that it did not define the places or even the towns where the Board could take the land by purchase or otherwise for the purpose of constructing filter works and works for the purifying of the waters.

This Act was an act through which the Salem and Beverly Water Supply Board attempted to attack the provisions of Section 4, Chapter 700 of the Acts of 1913, providing that the State Board of Health shall advise and approve the taking of land necessary for the storing of water and preserving purity thereof and the building of dams, reservoirs, filter beds or other works for diverting, storing or improving the water. In other words, Section 4 of Chapter 700 of the Acts of 1913 provided that this Board should work under the direction of the Board of Health, and House Bill No. 1564 provided that the Salem and Beverly Board were authorized to take such lands as they saw fit without the intervention of the State Board of Health, thus cutting off the Towns from any hearing in connection therewith.

The Town of Wenham and its inhabitants were not particularly interested in the questions that were passed upon by the Legislature and were embodied in Chapter 700 of the Acts of 1913. The scheme for the diverting of the water of the Ipswich River at that time was such that it did not affect the town of Wenham in a material way.

Under the bills which we have mentioned, with their broad and indefinite language, the Town of Wenham might be greatly injured, in that a very large area might have been taken in addition to the area that had already been taken by the city of Salem in the east end of the town for water works purposes. This Committee believed that the Town of Wenham had been up to that time already hard hit by the Salem and Beverly water business. It had lost in the east end of the town some of its valuable lands which were taken for water works purposes by the City of Salem under the Act of 1893, Chapter 364, wherein and whereby the City of Salem and the Town of Beverly were authorized to take and hold by purchase or otherwise in addition to the waters it has heretofore been authorized to take, the waters of Miles River in the towns of Beverly and Wenham and the waters of any and all streams, springs and water sources within the water shed of Norwood and Beaver's Ponds and of the Miles River and their tributaries and confluents.

The City of Salem and the Town of Beverly had taken Longham meadow in the Wenham Neck District, and while they took only 140 acres of ground, under the Act they had the right to control all the brooks and water courses which naturally flow into the meadow or which might be made to flow into the meadow.

Under the Acts that then existed, Salem and Beverly had control of approximately 800 acres of the Town of Wenham, all told, which control and taking deprived the Town of Wenham of taxes that it would otherwise have received on account of the advance in valuations from year to year which, had it not been for these Acts, would have kept pace with actual increase of the land values of the Town.

This Committee, through its representatives, attempted to ascertain what the scheme for taking the water of the Ipswich River was that the Salem and Beverly Water Board had in connection with House Bills No. 1563 and No. 1564. This Committee received the information that the Water Board had no fixed scheme; that they had no plans or maps from which it was possible to derive a notion as to what was contemplated in the broad language of the bill. However, your representatives were informed that there were tentative sketches that were in existence, and from plans which were in existence, the engineer hired by the Town of necessity under these circumstances ascertained that there was a possible scheme to divert the waters of the Ipswich river below the mouth of Pleasant Pond Brook in the Town of Hamilton. As near as it could be ascertained, the scheme was to dam the river at a point below the mouth of that stream and raise the dam to an elevation of 35 feet thus raising the water in the Ipswich river possibly to 35 feet. The water of the River was to be backed up so that, by gravity, the outlet of the Pond would be the inlet to the Pond; that there was one possibility that there would be no dam or barrier placed across the brook and that in that case Pleasant Pond would have to be raised to the same level as the confines within the river basin, to wit,—grade 35.

Your Committee ascertained that the result, so far as Wenham was concerned, if this should be done, would be to flood the Town at an elevation of 35 feet, flooding 835 acres in the centre and west portions of the Town.

They ascertained, also, that if the water was raised to an elevation of 35 and a dam placed across the brook and the waters of the Ipswich river confined so that they would not freely flow into Pleasant Pond or Idlewood Lake, there would be a diminution of simply 25 acres, making 810 acres which would be flooded under that arrangement.

Your Committee further ascertained that if Idlewood Lake, as it could be under the broad wording of these bills, was raised to grade 35, the flooding would be in the central part of the village of Wenham, filling all the low lands at and about the most thickly settled portions of the village and destroying for residential purposes a large tract in the very centre of the Town; that the amount of property under this last scheme which would be forever taken and would be lost for the purposes of regular assessment would approximate sixty-five thousand dollars and would destroy values of property belonging to inhabitants of Wenham, taken on the basis of sales values, in the vicinity of $190,000.00.

Your Committee also ascertained that provided the possible mode of taking were adopted, as set forth herein, the amount of land taken would be only a small portion of the taxable property which would be withdrawn from the Town, because, the Board and the Cities having control for the purpose of purification and clarification of the water and the keeping of the same pure, all the water courses running into the basin, including the water of Ipswich River, would affect a very wide area, and the consequent withdrawal of taxable property would be in all probability, at least fifty per cent. larger than the actual taking.

Again, your Committee ascertained that if this scheme should be carried out, the whole drainage of the central portion of the Town of Wenham would have to be re-arranged at great expense to the Town.

Of course, there were other possible schemes that may have been contemplated, under the broad wording of the bills, but this Committee considered it of prime importance to see to it that no bill was passed by the Legislature of 1914 respecting these matters which would give to the Salem and Beverly Water Supply Board power to practically destroy a a third of the Town of Wenham, it having been ascertained that practically two thousand acres of the Town would be appropriated directly and indirectly to the use of the cities of Beverly and Salem.

After having made the investigation and ascertaining the possibilities of damage to the Town under these Acts, this Committee did everything in its power to aid the counsel for the Town to present the case of the Town of Wenham to the Committee on the Water Supply at the Legislature.

The first hearing of that Committee was set for March 25, 1914. This Committee did all that it could to procure a large attendance of both Wenham and Hamilton citizens at the hearing and a large number of influential citizens of Wenham and a few from Hamilton appeared at the time of the hearing before the Committee. This hearing lasted practically all day.

The situation of the Town of Wenham was presented, first, by the counsel, and later by members of this Committee and citizens of the Towns of Wenham and Hamilton outside of the Committee. The matter was postponed for some time and the counsel for the Town attended on four occasions, to wit:—on April 1, April 2, April 29 and May 21, and at private hearings in which Nathan Matthews, Jr., for the Water Board, appeared to urge the Committee to recommend some action upon these bills or upon some bills that he might substitute therefor.

We have the pleasure of informing the citizens of the Town of Wenham that the result of the efforts of the Committee and of the Counsel for the Town, together with the efforts of the good citizens who rendered their aid in this direction, was that the Committee of the Legislature reported leave to withdraw on both bills and as a result, no action was taken and no amendment to the original Act made.

The Committee appreciate the interest and assistance given them by our Representative, Henry F. Long of Topsfield.

Respectfully submitted,

ELBRIDGE R. ANDERSON, Chairman.
OSCAR HOSMER, Secretary.

Perkins, John, 4th yr. Batchelder, Edmund, 4th yr.

After the detailed accounting of the school appropriation which the town yearly makes, the logical sequence, would seem to be, some detailed account of the results of this expenditure of our eight thousand dollars.

The task of the School Committee and Supervisors would indeed be easy, could one put down in concrete form, as in the construction of a house, that so much had been paid for material and labor, and the result a building of which to approve or disaprove. Not so easy a task is our school system. We are spending our money, to maintain and work out a training, which shall be sufficiently uniform, to bring under its influence, children of such diverse powers of attainment, and from such diverse home training as to make each child almost a problem in itself.

A school system, however conservative, is always experimental, and must change and adapt itself to a greater or less degree to the changed conditions in the demands of labor and industry. Those whose school days have ended with the High School have long since felt the necessity of specializing—if High School was to make any sort of preparation for earning a livelihood. And now the secondary schools feel that they must supply opportunities for manual training—but to corrolate the work of the class room, with practical demonstrations, and to give manual dexterity.

The problem of your committee is not only to see that the school equipment is suitable but that each group of Children has a teacher, eager to stimulate those above the average, and to pull up those below; for every school is divided into three sections, the average, those above, and those below.

Our teachers of the past year have been, exceptionally interested, in the personal side of their schools. The pulling up to the average, of those who naturally fall below, must be done with rare tact, for too often children and parents feel, that each little brain starts with the same equipment and that special attainment or failure is the result of favoritism or extra help at home, or the reverse.

It is a hard lesson, to take stock of what we are, and make the most of it. If the committee has any assurance to give parents, it is, that with our present school equipment and supervision any unusual gift will be detected, and its expression encouraged—and for the average, which is the bulk of our enrollment, our school offers every chance of making good.

The point of view of the home toward the school and community, controls the point of view of the child and the schools are fairly tried only when committee and parents are working together.

Do not blame the teacher for rules she does not make and do not blame the committee for rules they do not make.

Rules and regulations of health and attendance are made for the protection of each and every one. Laxness in enforcing such rules, by either the teacher or the committee, is an evasion of their duties not to be tolerated.

The general repairs of the school property have been at the Neck and at the Center, where painting in one case and the boiler in the other have been the only large bill of expense.

Each of the District schools, justifies continuance, by the increased enrollment and classes of beginners.

The High School enrollment is forty-seven. In addition, three boys and two girls, are attending the County Agricultural School, which shows that the town is not slow to take advantage of special lines of training when offered.

The continued work of Mr. Williams as superintendent is of the greatest advantage to the consistent and progressive management of the schools. Mr. Williams has united conservatism with progress in such a way, that our teachers have not been confused by experiments, but are being constantly stimulated to a broader conception of their work.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Committee:

MADAM AND GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit herewith my fifth annual report.

As one sits down to the task of writing the report of the schools each year he is always aware of the inconsistencies arising from trying to make such a report in the middle of the school year. The data at hand are largely for the year which closed more than six months ago and which is now of only passing interest to most people. Nearly all changes in the teaching force occur during the summer vacation and the new teachers or teachers in new positions have not had opportunity to show results which we can pass upon with any degree of justice to them or to ourselves. In fact there seems to be no special reason other than custom why a report of the schools should be made in the middle of the year, and there are some good reasons why such a report should be made after the schools close in June.

The report at that time could be made upon the completed work and the statistics of a continuous and unbroken year, and results of the year could be judged with fairness to all concerned. Again, a report made in the summer and sent to the people early in September might include a manual of the school department, giving information valuable to both parents and the teachers for the following year.

I believe this plan to be worthy of consideration for future practice.

A meeting of Wenham teachers with those of the other towns of the district, was held at Salem in September at which plans for the year were outlined and discussed at some length.

More of these meetings would be of value to the teachers and of great assistance to the Superintendent, but the teachers of the district are so widely scattered that it does not seem advisable to hold more than two each year. Usually one is held at the Salem Normal School in April when a program of general interest is carried out. At the meeting last April the program consisted of conferences of the teachers by grades and a very interesting and instructive address on "The Value of Organized Play" given by Mr. Thomas Curley of Waltham, Secretary of the Massachusetts Playground Association.

We are indebted to members of the Normal School faculty for assistance in making the program a success.

At the close of the school in June we received the resignations of Miss Vera L. Tarbox, principal of the Centre School and Miss Genevieve Cassens, teacher at the Neck, both to take a rest from teaching for a time on account of ill health. Miss Pauline Coppinger who had been so successful in the West school for two years was promoted to the principalship of the Center School. Miss Eva G. Dill of Braintree was elected to fill the vacancy at the Neck and Miss Olive Waterhouse that at the West End. In the summer Miss Beatrice A. Randall the drawing teacher resigned to accept a very lucrative position in Fair Haven and her successor is Miss Paula Lang Clough of Greenwood, Mass.

In December Miss Ida Burrill resigned to be married and Miss Helen G. Peabody of Danvers was elected to fill that vacancy.

The work of all the schools at this time gives promise of a most successful year. While we are not neglecting the essential studies of the school and while we are conducting no doubtful experiments, we are carrying on some additional activities that make more interesting and efficient the regular work and, at the same time, connect the school with the activities of the home and the community.

As a part of the work in manual training the boys have constructed a sand table for the primary school, repaired and refinished a book case, made window shelves for two or more rooms and repaired chairs, besides making many useful articles for the home.

Both boys and girls are re-caning chairs for the schools and homes, and it is such an interesting piece of work that there is no trouble in having a great deal of it done outside of school hours.

In sewing and other practical work the girls are doing their share with the boys. Their most inportant achievement is mentioned in another part of the report.

Concerning the influence all this work has upon the regular studies of the school, a principal who has done much of it for the past four years says that the interest created by the break in the regular routine more than compensates for all the time spent upon these activities.

Now and then some school makes such a remarkable development in a particular branch of work that it deserves special mention in the report. In this case it is due the East school that special mention be made of the work in music. Not long ago, if two or three pupils had gone out of the school there could have been no singing. But that is not true of the school now. Their Christmas program of music was certainly a pleasant surprise to one familiar with the school only two or three years ago.

A very important factor in the administration of the Wenham schools is the practice of the School Committee of holding regular monthly committee meetings with the Superintendent present. At these meetings the needs of the schools are considered, plans and policies are discussed and reports made, so that the Committee is in close touch with the schools throughout the year. Any suggestions that occur to the Committee when visiting the schools or at other times are made to the Superintendent instead of the teachers so that there may be no doubt in the minds of the teachers at any time as to what course they shall follow. It is nearly always possible for the Superintendent to so modify his plans that the suggestions made may be carried out with good results and with no confused ideas on the part of the teacher.

As the Superintendent is supposed to be the executive officer of the committee these monthly meetings keep him in touch with all legislation so that he is never uncertain as to what plan of procedure shall be followed from month to month.

It may also be of interest to the people to know that the plan of accounting used by the Chairman of the Committee tells exactly at the end of every month how much money has been expended in each department and also how much remains to the credit of each department.

All these methods of management are of the greatest value to the superintendent in the performance of the duties of general supervision.

In closing, I wish to call attention to the special reports which follow and are offered as a part of this report. I also wish to express my appreciation of the counsel, advice and support of the School Committee, the hearty cooperation of the teachers, and the general interest of all concerned with the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

HARVEY R. WILLIAMS,

Superintendent of Schools.

January 21, 1915.

TOPSFIELD, MASS., Jan. 9, 1915.

To the Superintendent of Schools,
Wenham, Mass.

DEAR SIR:—It is with pleasure that I submit the report of my work in the Wenham schools. The course of study has been practically the same as last year. Teachers and scholars are more familiar with the present arrangement of the course and thus I feel we have better results.

It is helpful to see the continued interest and enthusiasm. I believe no phase of school music is subject to more adverse criticism than tone quality. My aim is for good tone and quick sight reading. Almost all the grades have a number of songs which they can sing with good tone and expression. The quality of tone is much improved in all the grades.

The Folk dances and singing games are used in the lower grades and are of great help. These Folk dances and singing games are not only helpful as physical culture, but develop a grace of pose and gesture. They encourage spontaneity: they bring hand, eye, head and body in response to the sentiment expressed. They represent and give to us much of the tradition and lore of all ages. To be a man one must possess self consciousness, but to be an artist one must lose consciousness of self. So this abandon is well gained.

Just as I believe in the school as a home so I believe a love for the best in music should be created in this home. A love that will in later years express itself in the community, in the church Choir, in the public day celebrations, in the selection of music for places of amusement, and in many ways that reflect the first training.

To sing with taste and expression many qualfications are required, first music, voice, ear, and execution, then language, enunciation and action.

Two part songs will be taken up in the third and fourth grades the remainder of the year.

I hope the course in music will give the scholars a knowledge and love of good music that will be of priceless value to them. Through the love of music and song are expressed the highest and noblest of sentiments, patriotism, reverence, honor and love.

I wish to extend my appreciation to the Superintendent and School Committee for their helpfulness and encouragement. To the teachers, for their earnest co-operation, my hearty thanks.

Respectfully submitted,
GENIE FULLER KIMBALL,
Supervisor of Music.

To Mr. Harvey R. Williams,
Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit my first annual report as Teacher of Drawing for the Town of Wenham.

It is a well know fact that a change of special instructors is always a trying time not only for the teachers but also for the scholars, as a new line of work and entirely different methods of presenting the subject are often introduced. However it is a pleasure for me to be able to say that we learned very quickly to work together with interest and enthusiasm.

Perhaps it would be well to state in the beginning just what we wish to do for the children. Drawing in the elementary school is to be considered from the utilitarian point of view rather than from the aesthetic standpoint. It is our desire to develop the children in perception, in powers of reasoning, in muscular reaction, and in an appreciation of the beautiful, and above all to help them to reason and act independently. We try to keep this last thought in mind constantly so as not to err in pushing the workmanship to a high standard for results alone. Where this is done children may execute very excellent work, to be sure, while under the guidance of the teacher, but, when left to themselves, realize that they are unable to go on, and the spirit of the school room is in danger.

Outlines have been provided every month for the teachers. This does not mean that a rigid, stereotyped course has been planned for all the various schools, but it is used in order that the four divisions under the subject of Drawing may be given due amount of time during the term, and also that the work may be carefully graded. In many cases the lessons have been varied to meet the special requirements of the different schools.

The work has been divided into representation, which includes object and nature drawing, design, including color theory and lettering, construction and constructive drawing and picture appreciation. In design we have attempted to arouse a feeling of neatness and order and to stimulate an interest in improving the common objects and surroundings of their daily life. All the work given has been practical and every design has been studied for its adaption and application to specific objects.

In construction, accuracy and constructive planning are emphasized throughout the lesson. We are about to start on vellum work and elementary book binding. This will be a very important subject, for if the children are interested in the repairing and recovering of books they will become better accquainted with the proper care and use of books. Wherever possible drawing should be correlated with the other school subjects, so that its need and use may be realized by the children.

I desire to take this opportunity to thank the teachers for their hearty co-operation and interest in the work.

Respectfully submitted,

PAULA LANG CLOUGH.

MANUAL TRAINING REPORT.

We are now dividing the day for sloyd into three periods rather than four. This arrangement gives each boy an extra half-hour for work. The first year students take the regular course as usual. They have made small articles, such as key boards, wall brackets, card holders, ring toss and other first-year exercises. These they enjoy making and from their construction learn the use of different tools. The more advanced students have a special course but are not held rigidly to it. Those having ideas of their own are allowed to express them, if their ideas are not beyond their ability. Glove boxes, small book cases, taborets etc., are being constructed by these boys. The work that proves to be of the most value, is the repairing of school and home articles. Work of this kind is being done whenever possible. Each pupil has a small book in which he writes the amount of stock used and the price per foot of each article made. This is charged to the pupil providing he wishes to keep the article. The money collected helps to buy extra material for the sloyd work. We are contemplating the making of a cabinet to be placed in the hall of the school building. This will be used for the display of small articles of wood. We also hope to gradually add other bits of furniture made by the boys.

Before closing I wish to state that great interest is being manifested in this work. I also wish to express my appreciation to the Superintendent, Board of Education and Teachers, for help received.

Respectfully submitted,

ROLAND S. STEBBINS.

REPORT OF SEWING.

MISS SUSAN WALES, TEACHER.

As the Sewing is a new departure in Wenham the result of one year's work only can be reported.

Sewing is confined to the seventh and eighth grades, and is given while the boys are at manual training.

The girls of the seventh grade first take up all the elementary stitches and then use them in the making of a practical garment—a petticoat, kimona or a hemstitched pillow slip.

The eighth grade have the interesting problem of making their graduation dresses, at a cost not to exceed $1.50. The class of 1914 accomplished this very successfully, making a dress and petticoat for from $1.25 to $1.40, the cost varying with the size of the girl. For these young girls to actually make and understand the values of a simple, attractive dress, adapted to their age, demonstrates that the sewing in our schools is no fad or experiment but a wholesome application of what every girl should have the chance to know.

THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

OF THE

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1914

TO WHICH IS APPENDED

A LIST OF THE BOOKS ADDED TO THE LIBRARY DURING THE YEAR

BEVERLY:
THE ALLEN PRINT.
1915.

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

To the Citizens of the Town of Wenham:

The Trustees of The Public Library, herewith submit their annual report for the year 1914.

The general statistics of the year's work are given in detail by the Librarian on following pages.

The Trustees regret that there is not a more general use made of the Reading Room;—all the best Magazines are on the tables and while the home circulation of Magazines seems to slightly increase, there seems to be little use made of those on the tables of the Reading Room, so under the circumstances it was considered wise to further revise our subscription lists, and several publications were discontinued, as it seemed that the money could be expended to better advantage in other directions.

Through the courtesy of Congressman A. P. Gardner, the Library was favored with several complete sets of "Farmers' Bulletins" for general distribution, and these were placed in the Lobby to be taken by anyone wishing them;—while a good number have been so distributed, there still remain a liberal assortment, for distribution to anyone interested.

During the past year, certain Educational Magazines were loaned the School Committee, for use in the upper grades of the Center School. This beginning has led the Trustees to formulate plans for increasing the efficiency of the Library, especially in the interests of the children, by circulating certain books and publications to be used in connection with their studies, direct from the school room, under the supervision of the teacher, and it would seem that these Branch School Libraries, wherein the books are available every day, should be of considerable benefit the coming year.

Realizing that patrons of the Library can often make a better selection of reading matter when they have an opportunity to scan the pages before deciding on a book—the Trustees have had two large Book Troughs placed at the rail in the Library, adjoining the desk, and in these are placed the new books, as well as books of special or general interest.

Owing to the bad condition of many of the Juvenile books, it seemed unwise to incur the expense of rebinding in many cases, and for this reason quite a number of the oldest ones have been withdrawn as unfit for circulation, owing to their worn and torn condition.

To replace them purchases of juvenile fiction as well as non-fiction works have been made to a certain extent, but it would seem that larger purchases in this line must be made the coming year, to provide a proper selection of books suitable for the children's needs.

The Library has been favored with gifts of books during the past year from Mrs. Frank Magee, The Misses Waters, Rev. Frederick M. Cutler, Mrs. Adeline P. Cole, Mr. Harvey R. Williams, Mr. Neilson, and others.

During the past year the Trustees have completed arrangements with the Trustees of the Beverly Public Library, whereby pupils of the Beverly High School, whose tuition is paid by the town of Wenham, may have access to the books of that Library, and practically allowing them equal privileges with residents of Beverly, thus placing at the disposal of the Wenham Scholars Library privileges equal to any in the State.

The Trustees would ask the co-operation of patrons of the Library, in the choice of any new books that may be desired. If the title and Publisher are given the Trustees will be very glad to secure the book, if suitable, and this co-operation by patrons would be of great value in filling the shelves with good reading matter.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH M. SMITH,

Secretary Board of Trustees.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

Wenham, Mass., Feb. 8, 1916.

This is to certify that I have examined the accounts of the several officers and find same correct with proper vouchers for the payments.

W. ARTHUR TROWT, Auditor.

REPORT OF THE CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of Wenham,

Gentlemen:—

I take pleasure in submitting to you a brief report of the Fire Department. There have been 8 alarms, 7 for grass fires and 1 for building of Mr. Geo. Jones. Fortunately the firemen being able to make a quick response, the loss by fires was very trifling and it is gratifying to be able to report one year no loss by fire. This fact has been aided very much by the use of automobiles to transport our extinguishers to the fires. This is proof of the desirability of the Town maintaining some modern light trucks of motor design and have the extinguishers and small fire fighting tools loaded ready to respond to a call when the fire is in its early stage. This method is being adopted by many cities and towns throughout the United States. Owing to the perfecting of many motor vehicles for this purpose, $1,000 would give the Town a first class machine for our purpose and I hope the citizens will profit by the experience of other towns and improve the fire fighting apparatus by the addition of a suitable motor truck, which will put the fire department on good footing. The property of the department remains the same as last year by the addition of 12 new extinguishers and 2 rubber coats. The annual appropriation for the department for the past years has been $350.00 and about every year the amount is overdrawn. I would recommend that the sum of $450.00 be appropriated for the fire department for the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN

This season we have planted out 30 sugar maple trees, 10 white ash (five of these were to replace five young trees cut off by the Leopard moth in the school yard); also planted 50 Lombardy poplars that were donated to the Town.

I would suggest, if the Town would make an especial appropriation, that we plant out Perkins and Monument streets this coming spring with maple trees. It would take about 100 trees to plant the two streets. We have lost only two or three willow trees by storms and these were on Walnut street.

(Signed) J. D. BARNES,

Tree Warden.

DOGS

The total number of dogs licensed in Wenham for the year of 1915 were sixty-four (64), viz.: males, forty-eight (48), females, sixteen (16). Also two breeders' licenses were issued, one at twenty-five dollars ($25.00), one at fifty dollars ($50.00).

The sum of two hundred and thirty-six dollars ($236.00) was paid to the County Treasurer.

HUNTERS' LICENSES.

The total number of hunters' licenses issued for the year of 1915 were sixty-one (61) as follows: sixty (60) at one dollar ($1.00) each, one at fifteen dollars ($15.00).

The sum of seventy-five dollars ($75.00) was paid to the Massachusetts Fish and Game Commission.

Attest,

WILLIAM P. PORTER,

Town Clerk.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT

Our report this year will, as in former years, deal largely with matters referring to the Highway Department, and when it is considered that $6692.58 has been spent under the direction of the superintendent, Mr. J. D. Barnes, it will be readily admitted that the matter deserves more than passing notice.

It has been a source of satisfaction to this board to hear the words of praise which have been spoken in regard to the condition of our roads by parties outside of our town. Taken as a whole, we have been credited with having the best in the state.

Of the total amount expended, $4320.05 was spent for labor, and $2372.53 for supplies, etc., the detailed account of which appear on preceding pages. The cost of the work on Monument Street was $987.15, and of the work on Perkins Street $806.99. Part of the soil which was removed, before building the sidewalk on Perkins Street was sold to Mr. J. D. Barnes; he giving three loads of gravel for one of soil; about 200 yards were used on Arbor Street at the dry bridge and the remainder is now piled on the school house grounds.

In grading Monument Street it was found necessary to remove a large amount of material in order to get a good foundation, and this waste was used to good advantage in widening Arbor Street at the dry bridge.

$120.20 was spent on side-walks and the cost of filling at Straits Hollow was $183.26.

All of our streets have received some sort of oil preparation this year. In this work there has been used 12600 gallons of tarvia costing 7¾ cents per gallon applied, and 11961 gallons of Texas oil costing 6 cents per gallon applied. This does not include the cost of covering, which was $498.14. Both the oil and tarvia were applied at the rate of ¾ gallon to the square yard.

Hon. Wm. D. Sohier reports that about $2800 has been spent on the Beverly Farms-Myopia road this year and of this amount the town contributed $300.

The sum of $300.00 was appropriated for building a cistern for fire purposes at Wenham Neck, and the contract was given to Mr. Timothy A. Moynihan for $250.00, he being the lowest bidder. The specifications provided that the surplus material should be removed by the town. This material was used for widening Grapevine Road at a point just below Grapevine bridge, thus making a decided improvement. The expense, amounting to $92.77, has been charged to highway account.

By vote of the town $500.00 was appropriated for a new tin roof on the Town Hall. Specifications were drawn up and bids called for. The prices, as per the bids received, were $587.00, $697.00 and 20 cents per square foot; the price per square foot would figure over $700.00.

As the town had appropriated only $500.00, all of the bids were rejected and Mr. Ivory Quinby was engaged to patch and paint the old roof at day labor prices. The total cost was $62.80. It is Mr. Quinby's opinion that with proper painting, it is good for twenty years more.

Competitive bids were asked for the town's supply of coal for the year, and the contract was given to Mr. George W. Pickering of Salem at the following prices: soft coal $4.50 per ton, egg coal, $7.25 per ton, stove coal $7.25 per ton, and nut coal $7.50 per ton.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES H. McQUEENY,
ARTHUR D. PRINCE,
ELMER E. CLARKE.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE

Appointed to Oppose Further Legislation Respecting the Salem and Beverly Water Supply to be Derived from the Ipswich River and For Other Purposes.

This Committee was appointed by the Town for the purpose of opposing any further legislation in behalf of the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board seeking to vary or amend the act creating that Supply Board, to wit,—Chapter 700 of the Acts of 1913.

The Committee was originally appointed in 1914 and made its report to the Town of its activities in that year. The same Committee was perpetuated by the Town for the same purposes and for the further purposes of studying the question and reporting to the Town on the question as to whether the Town needed a public water supply and whether the inhabitants of the Town wanted a public water supply, and to ascertain in respect to the sources of that supply and make such recommendations and take such action as they should see fit in the carrying out of these purposes.

In the year 1915 the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board filed in the Legislature a petition accompanied by two bills for the purpose of giving to the said Commission broader powers than those contained in the original act creating the Commission. Various hearings were had before the Joint Committee of the Legislature on water supply, which were attended on behalf of the Town by Elbridge R. Anderson, Esq., for the purpose of restricting the legislation in accordance with the vote creating this Town Committee. In the course of those hearings several briefs were filed in behalf of the Town and arguments were made and various of the citizens of the Town attended said hearings. Thereafter the Joint Committee of the Legislature visited the Wenham Swamp and went over the ground to ascertain the location of the canal proposed to be constructed by the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board and also to ascertain the proposed locations of the pumping station and the place of intake from the Ipswich River, and to go over the ground to ascertain in regard to the situation of the various brooks entering the river between the place established by the original Act and the proposed new place of intake; also for the purpose of ascertaining in regard to the various rights of way and the old Wenham Highway through the Swamp.

After the hearings had been concluded and after the view had been taken by the Joint Committee of the Legislature, the Committee on Water Supply on March 29, 1915, to whom was referred the petition accompanied by House Bill No. 1327 of the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board relative to diverting the water of the Ipswich River and the installing of measuring and recording devices in said river, reported a bill which was known as House Bill No. 1963. That bill provided in substance:

First, That in addition to the powers conferred upon the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board by Chapter 700 of the Acts of the year 1913 for the purpose of providing a further water supply for the use of the city of Salem and its inhabitants and Beverly and its inhabitants, to take and divert the waters of the Ipswich River and its tributaries at any point designated by the State Department of Health between the Newburyport turnpike and a point one thousand feet easterly of the bridge of the Newburyport branch of the Boston & Maine Railroad over the said river, and made various provisions in regard to the duties of the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board in connection with the changes that might be brought about and deemed necessary in order to remove the place of intake down the river from the place as designated in the original Act. And, second, providing that the measuring and recording devices required by the provisions of Chapter 700 of the Acts of 1913 may be located at such point or points as the State Department of Health may designate in the Ipswich River or in the canal across Wenham Swamp from the Ipswich River to the upland at the southeasterly edge of the swamp which the said Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board was about to construct for the diversion of the waters of the said river to Wenham Lake or at the pumping station to be constructed by the said Board for said purpose at the southwesterly end of the said canal or at any other suitable point or points. Third,—That if the canal referred to in the preceding section, or the takings of the land for the same, cross any public or private way in the Town of Wenham, the Board shall take such measures as shall be agreed upon by the Board and the selectmen of the Town of Wenham for providing access to the lands to which said ways lead, or in default of such agreement, the Board shall take such measures for the above purposes as may be fixed by the County Commissioners for the County of Essex and the State Department of Health sitting jointly. Said bill also provided that the Act should take effect upon its passage.

Said Act was passed through the Legislature and has become Chapter 309 of the Special Acts of 1915.

The Wenham Committee through its efforts was enabled to procure the third section of the said bill relative to the protection of public and private ways in the town of Wenham. The other matters that were considered in regard to the measuring devices, as also the point of intake, did not affect the rights of the town of Wenham to any material extent.

Chapter 700 of the Acts of 1913 provided only for the diversion and the taking of the waters of the Ipswich River for the use of the cities of Beverly and Salem and did not give that Water Board the right to take ground water from the town of Wenham or its inhabitants.

Your Committee was informed by an engineer that the ground water which will be taken by the canal through the Wenham Swamp as constructed by the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board, will be in volume substantially the same amount as that coming from the Ipswich River.

Your Committee was also informed that, unless this ditch was lined, the ground water of the whole surrounding region will go into it; that the character of the whole country will be changed; that the swamp wood will die off; that the underground water courses on the hill sides in the Town of Wenham will be disturbed; that the small streams and ponds outside of the line of the canal will be diminished in volume, and it will cause a serious state of affairs to the water works of the private estates bordering upon the swamp and bordering upon the pipe line running from the outfall at the pumping station to a point near the ice house at Wenham Lake.

The banks of the canal as they are being left at the present time by the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board or the contractor digging the canal, are composed of high banks of sand, mud and peat, and are an obstruction to any travel across the canal in any place or an approach to the banks of the canal in any practical way.

The Town represented by counsel and at the request of this Board, took up the question of the remedies which might be applied to procure access to the banks of the canal and crossing of the canal and also the stopping of the taking of the ground water from the town of Wenham, which would be a taking outside of the Act of 1913, Chapter 700.

On August 28, 1915, Elbridge R. Anderson, Esq., representing the town, requested a hearing before the State Board of Health to take up these two matters with them. On the thirtieth day of November, 1915, that hearing was granted, it having been postponed on account of the absence in Europe of Mr. Nathan Matthews, the chairman of the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board. A full hearing was had and on December 7, 1915, the State Department of Health rendered its decision in regard to the matter to the effect that it was not within the jurisdiction of the State Department of Health to determine how the bottom and sides of the canal are to be treated, and left, so that the ground water of that portion of the town will not percolate into the said canal; and the State Department of Health notified Mr. Elbridge R. Anderson by sending him a copy of the vote which was: "Voted that this matter is not within the jurisdiction of the State Department of Health, since the courts alone can finally determine the rights of all parties interested."

Nothing further has been done in regard to the matter of ground water and nothing further is contemplated unless the Inhabitants of the Town of Wenham desire to go further therewith.

Your Committee in connection with the diversion of the water of the Ipswich River through the canal, took up the question of the proper means of access to the various wood lots and properties situated in the Wenham Swamp, made necessary by the cutting of the old rights of way and of the town highway. Your Committee has made several trips to the Swamp, has gone over the land and retained the services of Mr. Charles A. Metcalf, civil engineer and surveyor, of Salem, Massachusetts, to determine the location of the highway from Cherry Street to the Hamilton line. A survey of the same has been made. The location of the highway has been determined and the location of the town landing, so called, has been determined and settled. The matter of a bridge across the canal and the proper access to that bridge on the banks of the canal are matters to be taken up by the selectmen of this town under Chapter 700 of the Acts of 1913.

Your Committee, however, in determining the question as to the diversion of water and the building of the canal and the interruption of access to the various lots had plans made showing the highway, its width, its location and its precise place of crossing the canal, and the selectmen have consulted with the members of this Committee as to the proper means of access to the various lots made necessary by the building of the canal.

The result of the activities of counsel before the Legislative Committee has made it possible to enforce against the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board and the cities of Beverly and Salem a right to proper access to the various lots in the Swamp and also the proper protection of the highways across which the pipe line built from the pumping station to Wenham Lake goes, and under the statute of 1915, above referred to, the Town of Wenham has been able to procure bonds for the purpose of protecting itself from liability for damages for highway accidents on Cedar and Cherry Streets, and the result will ultimately be a proper outlet for all of the lots in Wenham Swamp owned by the inhabitants of Wenham by means of a bridge, so that the benefit of the town landing on the edge of Wenham Swamp will still be perpetuated.

A copy of the plan of the highway through Wenham Swamp and its crossing of the canal is filed with the Archives of the Town and a question of long standing has been determined and settled so that anyone may now know the exact location of the town highway and the town landing from Cherry Street to the Hamilton Line.

In addition to the above activities of your Committee it attempted to ascertain as to whether a public water supply was desired by the inhabitants of the Town of Wenham. It held a public meeting in the Town Hall for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the citizens of the town generally. At that meeting there was a fair attendance but not a sufficient attendance to enable your committee to ascertain satisfactorily the sentiment of the citizens of the Town at large. After a hearing upon the question, however, as to the desire of the citizens for a water supply, it was ascertained that of the citizens attending the meeting, a large majority of them were in favor of some public water supply for fire protection and domestic purposes. In order to test the question further, your committee sent out postal cards to every house holder in the Town requesting information along the lines above indicated. There were 272 postal cards sent out. There were 135 replies and of those replies 90 were in favor of a public water supply absolutely; 11 were noncommittal as to a public water supply, and 34 were opposed to a public water supply. The whole result showed as far as your Committee could ascertain it, that there was a desire for a public water supply for fire protection and domestic uses in the Town.

In order to ascertain from what sources a water supply could be economically obtained, your Committee procured the services of Mr. Henry S. Adams, a civil engineer, and the engineer for the Town of Winchester, to make a survey of the town for the purpose of ascertaining the limits within which the town could lay its main supply pipes and its branch supply pipes and could profitably deliver water to its inhabitants, and for the further purpose of informing your committee as to the probable cost of a water supply procured, first, by purchase of water from the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board, and, second, by an independent driven well system.

The report shows that there were substantially 309 houses upon the highways taken into consideration by the engineer; that of that number of houses, 180 houses could be reasonably and profitably supplied with water, either by the purchase system or by the separate water works system.

The engineer considered the following streets and houses upon them:

Main Street from Bev. Line to Ham. Line,	7000 feet,	67 Houses
Porter St., entire length,	2000 feet,	16 Houses
Arbor St., entire length,	3300 feet,	26 Houses
Lake Avenue, part way,	600 feet,	4 Houses
Cherry St., Main St. to 600 feet beyond Pleasant Street,	2900 feet,	22 Houses
Cedar St., Cherry St. to Wenham Lake,	3200 feet,	10 Houses
Pleasant St. from Cherry St., about	800 feet,	5 Houses
Monument St., entire length,	2100 feet,	5 Houses
Friend St., entire length,	1150 feet,	11 Houses
Patch Lane, entire length,	400 feet,	2 Houses
Perkins Street,	1600 feet,	6 Houses
Larch Row, from Main St., about	800 feet,	6 Houses
Making a total of	25,850 feet of street and	180 houses.

His estimated cost was as follows:

25,850 ft. of 6 and 8 inch pipe laid at an average of $1.15 per linear foot,	$30,000.
180 house connections at $20,	3,600.
180 meters at $10,	1,800.
Stand pipe,	5,000.
Pump and motor,	1,000.
Pump house,	600.
Three wells,	3,000.
Five acres of land at $1000. an acre,	5,000.
Making a total of	$50,000.

This is upon a separate public water works for the Town of Wenham. If water is taken from Salem, from this amount can be saved:

Stand pipe,	$5,000.
Pump and motor,	1,000.
Pump house,	600.
Wells,	3,000.
Land,	5,000.
Pipe on Main Street,	8,400.
Making a total in saving of	$23,000.

Making the cost of the system, $27,000. This is exclusive of the costs of water purchased.

The engineer estimates that the gross income from 180 services at $25 per service is $4500.

Net income, 180 services at 50% of gross, $2250.

Annual fixed expense with 20-year serial bonds,	$2500.
Interest, first year,	2250.
Making a total of	$4750

but reducing each year $112.50.

An annual rental of $50 per hydrant would supply the deficit.

The engineer also suggests that by making the water taker pay the entire cost of his service connections, there would be a saving of $3600 in the initial cost.

By the water taker depositing the cost of the meter before installation and crediting him a sum per year on the meter rental, a saving could be made of $1800.

By creating a fire district and assessing the hydrant rental upon that district, the balance of the town that receive no benefit of the water service would not be taxed for it.

If the Water Were Taken from Salem.

Total cost of the system,	$27,000.
Net income on above basis,	2,250.
Annual fixed expense to retire bonds,		$1350.00
Interest first year,		1215.00
Making a total of		$2565.00

This does not include the cost of water purchased.

The engineer also stated that the district around Wenham Neck can be served from Beverly through Dodge Row, a distance of 4150 feet, with sixteen houses along that street, and Walnut Road with 14 houses is best served from Hamilton with a meter at the Hamilton line.

The Beverly & Salem Board, through its chairman, has approached your committee on various occasions and desired to know what the Town of Wenham desired to do and what the town of Wenham wanted in the way of water and water supply, stating that the Town of Wenham could make an arrangement to purchase water from the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board. Your committee has been unable up to the present time to get any proposal from the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board or any tentative suggestion of cost or figures, excepting only that the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board would lay a main of sufficient size through Main Street from the Beverly line to the Hamilton line, and would locate upon that fire hydrants and also put in connections so that the town could lay the pipe in the various streets designated or such other streets as the town might decide upon for the distribution of the water, and would sell the water to the Town of Wenham, as it must under the Act, and not to the citizens of the Town of Wenham, the same to be measured by a meter and the water to be delivered under high pressure.

As the Legislature of 1915 was about to convene and the time for the filing of bills to enable the Town of Wenham to supply itself with water was about expiring, your Committee, in order to save the rights of the Town, provided the town should desire to act thereon, petitioned the Legislature for the necessary legislation to enable the Town of Wenham to supply itself and its inhabitants with water in accordance with the terms of a bill annexed to the petition.

The bill provides for two ways for the town to supply itself with water. First, by purchase from the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board, and second, by an independent system, containing the clauses necessary for the taking of lands, the building and construction of water works, supply station, driven wells and the taking of the ground water therefor, and giving the town the right to distribute water to its inhabitants and to collect moneys therefor. Also, to do all the acts necessary in making contracts for the purchase of water from the Salem & Beverly Water Supply Board. Also, authorizing the town to issue bonds for the purpose of procuring money for the carrying out of either one of the provisions for obtaining a supply of water.

That bill has become House Bill No. 1023 of the Legislature of 1916, but no time has yet been assigned for a hearing thereon.

From the foregoing facts your committee reports that the Town needs a public water supply for fire protection and domestic purposes, and recommends the procuring of the passage of legislation to that end.

In studying the expense of maintenence, in the previous accounting, it will be noticed that very little has been expended upon school buildings during the past year. The East School alone, has been renovated by paint, paper and the whitening of the ceiling. With the exception of general cleaning and minor repairs, no money has been expended upon the other district schools. In the Center School, a new equipment has replaced the very old desks, and seats, that were moved from the old grammar school, for temporary use. The Manual training boys had hoped to rub down and refinish the desks, thus saving this expense, but the marks of their forefathers were too deep to so easily obliterate, and the new desks for which the town appropriated money at the last town meeting, have been set up, adding to the convenience and cleanliness of the room.

This building has not been painted for six years and it will be unwise to let another summer pass without two coats.

The walls and ceilings of the entire building are still in the plaster of the original finish and now after eight years, need cleaning and tinting.

Again we admit the very inadequate heating facilities of the district schools. We have followed the advice of various heating experts, in the placing of the stove and pipes, but the conditions remain the same, cold and draughty near the windows, too hot near the stove. Placing each building on a cellar, and installing a furnace seems to be the only satisfactory solution, an expense, which your committee think it would be wise to recommend, if other changes were not imminent. Until we are sure of how we are to be affected by the building of the new High School in Beverly, with the new system of grading under consideration, we strongly advise avoiding any radical changes, calling for large appropriations.

The average number of High School pupils increases slightly each year. The entering class of 1915 numbering 21, making a total of 56 High School pupils.

The building of the new High School, and the adoption of the 6-3-3 plan by Beverly, will materially affect our school system. Until the Beverly committee adopt a definite plan, it is futile for us to discuss our own plans which depend so much upon their action. Hence this year some changes, some improvements which we would suggest, it seems best to postpone, until we can act with a clearer understanding of what course is best for our schools.

More changes than usual have taken place in our teaching force, during the twelve months. Of the seven regular teachers, only two, Mrs. Hawkins, and Miss Coppinger have remained with us. Two were married, two left for graded schools, and one was offered a position in the midst of the year in a nearby city. The practise prevailing among superintendents and committees of filling vacancies in the midst of the year, from the ranks of teachers already employed, seems faulty in ethics and exerts an unhealthy and commercial spirit in our school system. We as educators should certainly retain a sufficient amount of idealism to do away with a system which finds its methods of promotion to be at the expense of the smallest schools, those least able to bear the disadvantages of frequent changes of teachers. As our present superintendent, Mr. Williams has been able to fill his mid-term vacancies without resorting to this reprehensible custom, we feel it quite possible for others to fall in line and practise better methods.

Our Public school system is rightly the object of the greatest solicitude on the part of the citizens, and because of its great place in the community, is the subject of acute criticism or approbation; such criticism or appreciation from parents who visit the school, know the teachers and see their child at work or play is the best asset of the committee in correcting faults where they exist, and developing that which is the most helpful.

Complaint from the home or the teacher has no value until the two have gotten together and tried to understand each other's point of view.

Those not in close touch with the school can never know the time and thought devoted to trying to solve the problem of the "difficult child", the restless, nervous, uninterested abnormal pupil; the school hours by no means define the working day of either superintendent or teachers, all of whom have worked generously and with enthusiasm for maintaining the standards of Wenham schools.

In asking for the appropriations for the coming year, we call attention to the fact that Wenham by her valuation of April 1, 1915, has passed the $3,500,000 limit ($3,662,150) and therefore will not be entitled to State aid from July 1, 1916—July 1, 1917, on account of the employment of a superintendent of schools.

We respectfully ask for the following sums to conduct the schools, during the ensuing year.

Insurance, 1915 to 1918,	$214 60
Outstanding Bills,	240 06
Superintendent's Salary,	500 00
Teaching,	4,100 00
Janitors,	550 00

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Committee:

MADAM AND GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to present herewith for your consideration my sixth annual report of the progress and condition of the Wenham schools.

One of the most potent factors in maintaining a high standard of efficiency in any school system is the permanency of the teaching force. With every change of teachers there is a distinct loss to the school. It takes time for the new teacher to become acquainted with the children, to learn the course of study required, and to get in touch with the general conditions in the school and in the community. While this adjustment is taking place there are liable to be some misunderstandings and mistakes that are a positive hindrance to the progress of the work of the children. The frequent changes of teachers in the small towns is also a hindrance to the most effective work of the superintendent of schools. Much of his time must be given to helping the new teachers to get started in conditions as they are rather than to the larger duty of increasing the general efficiency of the schools through systematic standardization of the work of the school room.

The changes that have come so frequently in Wenham have been due principally to two causes. The first is the fact that the larger towns are not only paying larger salaries than Wenham has paid, but they are constantly increasing those salaries on account of the ever increasing cost of living. The second reason why we have to record so many changes in Wenham is the very discouraging fact that few good teachers can be found who will stay more than a year or two in the outside schools where they have to teach all or nearly all of the elementary grades. Another reason may be noted in passing. We employ nearly all young teachers in our schools, who are very liable to decide to change their occupation if the "right opportunity" comes. But there is no remedy for this nor is it at all desirable that there should be.

Whatever may be the causes of the frequent changes in our teaching corps, the problem for the School Committee and superintendent of schools is one of very great importance as it involves the welfare of all the children of the town. This problem has been given a great deal of study, and sometime it may be solved to the great advantage of all concerned.

But in spite of the many changes in teachers we have had in recent years, on the whole the Wenham schools rank high among those of towns of this size. Most of our teachers had either had some experience or had been well trained when they came to us, and they came with the determination to give their best to the children. This they have done with more or less success. Many of them have done excellent work.

The only teacher who stays with us year after year is Mrs. Florence Hawkins and the results she gets in the little East school is proof positive of what has been said concerning the value of permanency in the teaching corps. In a spelling test given last year in the five towns of this district the East school very easily took first rank, averaging 97%. The school that had the next to the highest, 83%, was one that has only the Grammar grades. Most of the other work of the East school averages as good as the spelling.

Each year special study is given to some particular subject of the course of study and greater emphasis is given to that branch. This year reading is receiving special attention. For sometime we have realized that the best work in reading is done in the grades up to the fourth and that from that grade on there is very little if any improvement in the ability of the children to read well. If there is any change it is generally in the other direction. This is due in a measure to the more difficult subject matter of the books used but more often it is due to the method, or the lack of method, used in the upper grades to increase the power to grasp the thought of the printed page. This is the cause of many of the difficulties encountered by the teachers in trying to teach history, geography, etc., and also the failure of the children to become interested in books of general information and in good literature. The details of the plan we are using would be of no special interest in this report but we have been able to secure some excellent results which should be of interest to everyone. The best result of this work is the intense interest some teachers have been able to arouse in the children. The reading period is now looked forward to with pleasure.

One of the greatest advantages the Wenham children have ever had in their work has been the instruction given them during the past year at the Public Library. All the seventh and eighth grade children have been to the library for an hour a week for instruction in the use of the books of the library bearing upon the work in the regular subjects of the course. Topics in history, geography, manual training, sewing, etc., have been assigned by the teachers for special work at the library and outside of school hours, and instead of such work being dry and uninteresting as it usually is, the children have, on the whole, shown unusual interest. The results of this work have been so manifest in the work of the school room that its value to the children cannot be questioned. As there are two or more grades in every room, the teachers have had extra time for the other class or classes while one grade was taking the work at the library and this again has been of no small advantage to all the children.

According to the best educational thought of the present time the schools are no longer a place for the mere memorizing of the facts of the text-books to be "said-over" to the teacher in the recitation period. Education to-day is the process of applying to every-day life all the information available in school-books, library books, in current literature and from every other possible source. It is this daily application of knowledge gained through study in useful activity that makes it worth while to the children now and of value in after years. It is only by using what they learn now that the children will be able to retain the things they will need to know in later life. So in our schools the children are given a chance to do things. The boys work with tools in making useful articles for the school and the home; the girls learn to sew and make things of every day practical use. Both boys and girls help care for the school rooms and grounds, and feel more or less responsibility for the general good management of the school and its activities. These responsibilities and these activities give the pupils broader knowledge, larger development and a more helpful attitude toward the home and the community. Only as the school thus touches the every day life of the home and the community, is it doing its whole duty to the boys and girls in the present and preparing them for larger usefulness in the later years of their lives.

In closing this report I wish to record my appreciation of the always helpful advice and support of the School Committee, for the hearty co-operation of the teachers, and for the very cordial attitude of all the parents and citizens of the Town.

Respectfully submitted,

HARVEY R. WILLIAMS,

Superintendent of Schools.

TOPSFIELD, MASS., Jan. 8, 1916.

To the Superintendent of Schools, Wenham, Mass.:

DEAR SIR—I am glad to report that the year has been marked by earnest work and enthusiasm on the part of teachers and pupils.

The work has been continued along the same lines as last year: more time has been given to Time motions. While striving and working hard for certain results in tone and rhythm the aim is to make this progress pleasurable as well. It is, indeed, gratifying and helpful to find the grade teachers developing their own resources toward the one end. This is especially helpful where the music supervisor visits once in two weeks; and a possible lack of interest might appear. Much depends on the grade teachers in carrying on the work, to obtain the desired results.

Special attention has been given to Rote-singing: and to have the beginning of the study of music thorough, logical and sensible. Individual work has proven very helpful. I believe it is just as important to have individual recitation in the music class as in a primary class learning English. Different methods and devices must be used for the training of the child-voice, than for the adult voice.

I have aimed to have sight singing based upon a thorough knowledge of the musical symbols, and of the tones and rhythms which these symbols represent.

Vocal drills have been used through all grades; scale songs, and always an aim for good tone and enunciation.

Reading is very closely correlated to singing, the study of one helps the other. Flexibility of voice and clear articulation.

The motion songs are intended to assist in good physical development and are chosen with care as to subject matter. Children love "true stories" and rote songs should deal with familiar nature elements and be taught knowingly.

I wish to express my appreciation to the Superintendent and School Committee for their helpfulness and encouragement, to the teachers for their earnest and faithful co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

GENIE FULLER KIMBALL,

Supervisor of Music.

January 7, 1916.

Mr. H. R. Williams, Superintendent of Schools:

I have the pleasure of submitting my second annual report as teacher of drawing in the Town of Wenham.

An instructor is able to give only a statement of the subject matter that has been taught and of the work that has been accomplished in the school-room, but the real results of the training involved in the course of study is discernable by parents, teachers, and those who are closely associated with the children and who are watching their growth and development from day to day.

No change has been made in the work excepting in the upper grades, where there is less water-color painting being taught and in its place is taken up the study of color harmony for direct daily application in design, dress and home decoration. The free-hand drawing is confined to pencil sketching, as a means of expression. I believe that at times everyone feels handicapped by not being able to make rapidly a representation or plan in order to demonstrate some explanation and that this ability should be developed as far as possible during the elementary school years.

Making the plans and constructing the problems is becoming a very important part of the school work. In the primary grades the objects are used to illustrate stories and historical and geographical subjects. In the grammar grades, where the children are better able to measure and plan and to use their hands with more skill, articles which the children may use both in school and at home are made. Naturally whenever better materials are provided, the subjects produced are more durable and useful. Doing this sort of work furnishes an incentive to the children. In many cases they have expressed a desire to reproduce articles and have been perfectly willing to pay for the cost of the materials.

It is hoped that the children will return to their homes with the ability to adapt their means to the ends both in their homely tasks and in their amusements; to construct objects and toys for their own use, thus serving a dual purpose, by keeping the children interested in pleasant and profitable occupations and by conserving materials at hand; to increase and appreciate the beauty in their surroundings.

I take this opportunity to thank the teachers for their interest and co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

PAULA LANG CLOUGH.

Thirty-First Annual Report

OF THE

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES

To the Citizens of the Town of Wenham:

The Trustees of the Public Library herewith submit their annual report.

The Library has this year served a larger number of readers than ever before. This will not appear in our circulation, because much of this larger work is not recorded. The circulation of books placed in the schools or consulted in the library is not kept.

Early in the year the Board of Trustees realized that the Public were not receiving from the library what they should; not that the library was poorly equipped, for there were books and books on the shelves that had never been taken from the library, but how to let the people know what valuable information was lying idle was the problem. At the March meeting of the trustees it was voted to procure the services of a library expert, for one day each week until Jan. 1. We were fortunate in securing the services of Miss Frances Wiggin who is doing the work in Beverly and other nearby towns, and organized the work under a definite system which co-ordinates with the English, History and Geography in the seventh and eighth grades, thus not only opening a mine of information to them, but what used to be an irksome task, is now a pleasure. Miss Wiggin's full report is submitted to the town.

The change of the Juvenile books from the dark shelves where artificial light always had to be used, to the sunny side of the room, we feel worthy of mention.

The class in Manual Training at the school has made four boxes for transporting books to the schools, a record to be kept of the circulation. Through the kindness of the school superintendent, the transportation of these boxes has been made possible.

Any Board of Trustees which will continue to accumulate books that are not adapted to local needs is misspending the town's money. A library is for the pleasure and profit of the citizens:—by pleasure we do not mean the accumulation of every "best seller" or even a large part of much advertised fiction. When a book of fiction is placed upon our shelves, it must stand the test of general circulation. A book entirely suitable to the mature mind may be equally unsuitable to the adolescent. It is the purpose of the public library to supply nothing but wholesome fiction.

Biography, travel, science, history, sport, offer stimulating and helpful amusement which our young people are more and more appreciating as they are guided from the school to the library.

We have this year taken advantage of the law, which permits larger libraries to loan from their collection to smaller libraries. Boston, Salem and Beverly have during the year loaned under this provision, special books needed by citizens which were not in our library, and which would be unwise to purchase on account of the limited demands. Fifty books have at different times been loaned from outside libraries.

It has been the custom of the librarian to place upon the shelves, all gifts to the library without special examination; hereafter all fiction will be passed upon as are our purchases.

We urge more people to become actually familiar with the work and aim of the library, and the place it should occupy in the community.

The library is not for the few, it is for the many, not a hobby of one person, or one group of persons, but meeting the large needs of a diverse and scattered population.

We in Wenham have not the problem of the foreign speaking people—that may soon come—we have however, the professional man, the farmer, business man, the workingman, the house wife and the children, all having a special need which must be met.

We desire for the coming year an appropriation of $450 to conduct the library.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH H. PRINCE,

Secretary Board of Trustees.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF WENHAM PUBLIC LIBRARY

Concerning the Work with the School

In my work last spring, not knowing whether it would continue beyond the time for which I was then engaged, I made an attempt to give the children an idea of what the Public Library stood for, their privileges and obligations in connection with it, the purpose and value of the card catalogue, how to use it, and how to get from the shelves the books they need, including some power of discrimination to aid them in selecting the books best suited to their needs.

This autumn we have considered further the purpose of a scheme of classification for a library, the special features of the Dewey scheme, according to which your library is arranged, and then I have taught them by means of numerous problems of a simple nature, both in class and as outside work, how to look up information of all kinds in such reference books as your library possesses, the encyclopedias, dictionaries, yearbooks, etc., constant use being made of the catalogue always. If the work were to go on, I should recommend that the library purchase a few reference books of a simpler nature for the use of the children, like dictionaries of phrases, allusions, quotations, simpler encyclopedias, Who's who, etc., etc.

The juvenile catalog is so far from complete that it has been of little use. In the afternoons I have catalogued the juvenile non-fiction, at least have made a beginning, have completed the history and most of the travel, adding about six hundred cards to the juvenile non-fiction drawer. This work should go on in order to give the children the full good of the library. It is discouraging to them to be sent to the catalogue too frequently for material which stands on your shelves, but for which there is no representation in the catalogue. I have begun with the history because we have been studying chiefly books in that class. All the books on their shelves should have the necessary cards in their part of the catalogue. I think all the children have been helped by the work, most have learned a great deal and the brightest have learned a surprising amount.

Yours sincerely,

FRANCES S. WIGGIN.

NOTE—During the past year, by advice of the Supervisor, fifteen mail-sacks of Government publications were returned to the Superintendent of Documents at Washington, D. C. These comprised a file of the Congressional Record covering about twenty years, and various other department reports, for which we had comparatively little use. A memorandum of the books returned was made at the time, but unfortunately this has been mislaid, so that the exact number cannot just now be given.

Also a considerable number of books which were practically worn out, have been removed from the shelves, but not yet finally disposed of. As they have not been formally withdrawn from the library, they are still included in the accessions table as given above.

Hymn AMERICA

My country ! 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing ;
Land where my fathers died !
Land of the pilgrims' pride !
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring !

My native country, thee,
Land of the noble free,
Thy name I love ;
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills :
My heart with rapture thrills
Like that above.

Let music swell the breeze,
And ring from all the trees
Sweet freedom's song :
Let mortal tongues awake ;
Let all that breathe partake ;
Let rocks their silence break,-
The sound prolong.

Our fathers' God ! to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing :
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light ;
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King !

Invocation Rev. Abner D. Gorham

Responsive Reading Rev. Edwin A. Blake, Ph. D.

Minister. "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good: for His mercy endureth forever.

People. Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, whom He hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy; Minister. And gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west, from the north, and from the south.

People. They wandered in the wilderness in a solitary way; they found no city to dwell in. Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.

Minister. Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and He delivered them out of their distresses.

People. And He led them forth by a right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

Minister. O that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men!

People. For He satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.

Minister. He turneth the wilderness into a standing water, and dry ground into watersprings.

People. And there He maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitation;

Minister. And sow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yield fruits of increase.

People. He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly; and suffereth not their cattle to decrease.

Minister. Again, they are diminished and brought low through oppression, affliction, and sorrow.

People. He poureth contempt upon princes, and causeth them to wander in the wilderness, where there is no way.

Minister. Yet setteth He the poor on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.

People. The righteous shall see it, and rejoice: and all iniquity shall stop his mouth.

Minister. Whoso is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving-kindness of the Lord.

People. Praise ye the Lord."

Hymn TUNE HEBER

How sweet the name of Jesus sounds
In a believer's ear!
It soothes his sorrows, heals his wounds,
And drives away his fear.

It makes the wounded spirit whole,
And calms the troubled breast;
'Tis manna to the hungry soul,
And to the weary, rest.

Jesus! my Shepherd, Guardian, Friend,
My Prophet, Priest, and King!
My Lord, my Life, my Way, my End!
Accept the praise I bring.

Weak is the effort of my heart,
And cold my warmest thought:
But when I see Thee as Thou art,
I'll praise Thee as I ought.

Till then I would Thy love proclaim
With every fleeting breath:
And may the music of Thy name
Refresh my soul in death.

Hymn TUNE CAMBRIDGE

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

Under the shadow of Thy throne,
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight
Are like an evening gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night,
Before the rising sun.

Time, like an ever rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away;
They fly, forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the opening day.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come!
Be Thou our guard, while troubles last,
And our eternal home.

The Congregational Church, Wenham, Mass.

The Congregational Church in Wenham was organized Oct. 8, 1644, with Rev. John Fisk, who had removed from Salem to Wenham in 1641, as pastor. In 1655 Mr. Fisk with a portion of the church went away, and with people from other places settled at Chelmsford. Immediate steps were taken by the town even before their departure, for the continuance of the church here. The second pastor, Rev. Antipas Newman, began his work here in 1657 though he was not formally installed until 1663. The following is a complete list of pastors of the church to the present time.

John Fisk,	1644-1655	John S. Sewall, D. D.	1859-1867
Antipas Newman,	1657-1672	Alexander C. Childs,	1867-1868
Joseph Gerrish,	1674-1720	William R. Joyslin,	1868-1870
Robert Ward,	1721-1732	Will C. Wood,	1870-1876
John Warren,	1733-1749	Samuel W. Clarke,	1877-1878
Joseph Swain,	1750-1792	John M. Hart,	1878-1879
Adoniram Judson,	1792-1799	James H. Childs,	1880-1884
Rufus Anderson,	1805-1814	John C. Mitchell,	1884-1886
John Smith, D. D.,	1817-1819	George M. Woodwell,	1887-1890
Ebenezer P. Sperry,	1820-1837	Arthur N. Ward,	1891-1898
Daniel Mansfield,	1837-1847	Morris H. Turk, Ph.D.	1898-1903
Jeremiah Taylor, D.D.	1847-1856	Walter S. Eaton, Ph.D.	1904-

The following account of the early meeting houses in Wenham was prepared by the memorial committee after a careful examination of the town records.

The town records of Wenham indicate that there was a meeting-house here as early as 1642, though just when it was built or where it stood does not appear. It is generally supposed to have been situated somewhere within a quarter of a mile south of the present church building. It appears to have been in use until 1663, when a new meeting-house twenty four feet square and twelve feet stud was built. As nearly as can now be determined, this second house stood on or near the western end of the enclosure now known as the park. In 1688 a third meeting-house appears to have been built on the eastern end of the park, which stood until 1748, when it was taken down and a fourth house erected upon the same spot. This building was used as a house of worship for ninety-five years, or until 1843 when the fifth or present church edifice was erected a few rods north of the old meeting-house. The old house was then sold to the Ice Company and removed to the lake, where it was used as an ice house until it was destroyed in the great fire of 1873.

A SERMON

Delivered by

Reverend Walter Samuel Eaton, Ph. D.,

Minister of the Wenham Congregational Church.

PREACHERS AND PREACHING.

"Preach the word" 2 Timothy, 4:2.

This is a short text but a difficult task to perform. Paul, who gave this command to Timothy, knew by experience how hard his young friend's work would be. The great Apostle to the Gentiles did not ask Timothy to do what he was not willing to do himself. At that time Paul understood better than Timothy what a great responsibility he had placed upon him, and with what dangers he would be threatened if he were true to his trust. Jesus did not call His apostles to a life of ease. On the contrary, He told them that they would be arrested and brought before governors and kings: that they would be scourged in the synagogues and hated of all men.

Though the task of preaching the Gospel has always been a dangerous and a difficult one from the days of the Apostles to the present time, yet Jesus has never been left without witnesses. He has ever had a faithful and loyal company of followers who have had the martyr-spirit; who feared nothing but cowardice; who possessed heroic qualities; and who took pleasure in dying for the Gospel which they had been permitted to preach. When threatened with bodily harm, unjustly and falsely accused, imprisoned and condemned to die, many of the Master's disciples, during the past nineteen hundred years, have been as unmoved and as fearless as was Paul, who, knowing that bonds and afflictions awaited him in Jerusalem where he was going, said:- "But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the Gospel of the grace of God." (Acts 20 : 24).

It is a matter of interest that the first authentic record we have of this town is in connection with the preaching of the Gospel. At the very beginning of the life of this township the Word of God was preached in it.

It is a matter of congratulation, also, to the citizens of this place that the Reverend Hugh Peters preached the first sermon that was ever delivered within the bounds of Wenham. The place was on a little hill near our beautiful lake. The text was taken from the Gospel according to John, the third chapter and a part of the twenty-third verse,- "In Aenon near to Salim because there was much water there." The sermon, so far as I know, has not been preserved. What the preacher said on that occasion can only be imagined. But we need not hesitate to believe that the sermon was designed to do only good. The audience! Was it large or small? Where did the people come from? Who were in the congregation? Were they all saints? Did any attend that service out of mere curiosity to see and to hear a distinguished minister? History does not answer these questions, and many more of a like character which naturally suggest themselves to our minds.

About two hundred and seventy years ago this historic sermon was preached. That was six years before the organization of this church; twelve years after the founding of Salem; eighteen years after the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth; and twenty-four years after Captain John Smith coasted along the rocky shores of New England which he named and recommended to the wealthy and well-to-do people of Old England. The year that Hugh Peters preached in Wenham, Oliver Cromwell was devoting himself assiduously to the pursuit of farming; Charles the First, though very unpopular with many in his realm, was still on the throne; John Eliot was preaching to the Indians and translating for them portions of the Word of God; Anne Hutchinson, a member of the First Church in Salem, and a remarkable woman, was holding meetings for women, criticising the doctrines that were preached by Dr. John Cotton, and paving the way for her banishment from the colony; pirates were committing crimes on the sea everywhere; and negroes were brought from Africa to Salem. Then the country was new; the winters severe; comforts scanty; houses rude; provisions often few; work plenty; and problems many. But the Pilgrim and Puritan fathers were possessed of qualities that were needed in grappling with great problems, in overcoming obstacles, and in laying the foundations for a great republic.

No man in those times possessed such qualities in a greater degree than did the man who preached the first sermon that was ever heard within the limits of Wenham. He was no ordinary character. He was a rare spirit, a picked man, a choice soul. He was well-born. There was good blood in his veins. His ancestor was an officer in the army of William the Conqueror. His father was a well-to-do merchant, living at Foy in Cornwall where Hugh Peters was born in the year 1599.

In that prosperous home there were at one time three sons, William, Thomas and Hugh, and all of whom received a university education, and all became men of note.

William, who was graduated at Leyden, Holland, became a prosperous merchant in New England. He purchased the whole site of the City of Boston but was not allowed by the new comers to hold his purchase. He died at Andover where he owned considerable property.

Thomas, who was educated at Oxford, became the minister at Saybrook, Connecticut.

Hugh, the youngest son of that illustrious family, was graduated from Trinity College, Cambridge, and became a successful preacher, a fearless patriot, and a wise philanthropist.

According to the statement of Hugh Peters, it was the preaching of the Word that influenced him to become a Christian. How many the world over could give a similar testimony! How many have been helped heavenward, upward and Godward by the preaching of the Gospel! The faithful preaching of the Word of God, is and always has been, a mighty power for good in the world and as long as sin continues to exist in the hearts of men; as long as there is injustice, enmity and oppression in society; and as long as there is war, unrighteousness and unholy living on earth; so long will there be need of preachers and preaching.

Hugh Peters had at least three pastorates,- St. Sepulchers, London; Rotterdam, Holland, and Salem, Massachusetts. In these pastorates he was very successful. At St. Sepulchers his popularity occasioned envy and danger. Here he had an audience from six to seven thousand. And here "above an hundred every week were persuaded from sin to Christ." At Rotterdam, where he remained as a colleague with Dr. Ames for seven years, "the presence of God" was in his work. That Hugh Peters had great influence in Holland, and that he was held in high esteem in the country to which he was once banished by Archbishop Laud for non-conformity, is evidenced by the fact, that at one time, after his return to England from Salem, he collected from Holland 30,000 pounds or $150,000 for the Protestant sufferers in Ireland.

The first church in Salem where Hugh Peters preached for about five years greatly increased under his ministry. His ability as a preacher was recognized even by one of his most bitter enemies, William Young, M. D., who swore away his life. Dr. Young says, - "Mr. Peters was a popular preacher, admired by all the classical preachers of New England, Holland and Germany. And the Huguenots of England were so bewitched with his doctrines, eloquence and fervent prayers, that they sighed at the loss of such a precious villian." Some fragments of his sermons and other writings which I have had the opportunity of reading bear the marks of an original thinker, a scholarly mind, a strong character and a fearless preacher.

Let me quote two or three of his sentences.

"How few pray! How many say words! Oh, how many say their prayers backwards. Call him Father, who is not their Father, would not have His name hallowed, nor His kingdom come."

"The busie-body is but a Pedlar to carry up and down, and vend the Devil's wares."

"Fair Dove-Coats have most pigeons; Lost Estates have no Friends."

"A well led life is the best monument."

Hugh Peters recognized what perhaps some of us have not, that he was a man before he became a minister and when he became a minister he did not expatriate himself. He believed that his duties were not entirely confined to his pulpit ministrations.

He was a public spirited man. He was greatly interested in the welfare of New England, and at the close of his earthly life he expressed regret that he had not remained in this country which he called his "home."

During his pastorate in the First church of Salem, he became interested in reforming the police system; encouraged commerce; advised the planting of hemp; worked in the interest of fishermen and was the means of establishing a store in which the necessaries for fishing might be bought for reasonable prices. He had a hand in trying to remedy many wrongs, such as oppression in wages, excessive prices for commodities, smith work and teaming.

Hugh Peters took an interest in the cause of education, and he was one of the founders of Harvard college.

It would be impossible to estimate the value and extent of the services which he rendered New England. John Winthrop calls him "a man of very public spirit and singular activity for all occasions," and he adds that he "went from place to place laboring both publicly and privately to raise up men to a better frame of spirit."

Hugh Peters was sent in 1641 by the Massachusetts Colony to England to plead for a decrease of taxes, and through his efforts New England was relieved from all duties on exports and imports to and from the mother country, which were for the home consumption of the colonists.

Soon after Hugh Peters arrived in England he identified himself with the Parliamentary cause, which he firmly believed to be right, and served it faithfully as chaplain, officer, and war correspondent. He not only preached to the soldiers of Cromwell's army, but also visited the sick and wounded and ministered to them like a brother. After the death of Oliver Cromwell, Hugh Peters did not take an active part in public affairs. This was doubtless due to the fact that he was greatly broken in health and spirit.

After the overthrow of Richard Cromwell and the restoration of Charles the Second to the throne of England, Hugh Peters was ordered by the Council of State to be apprehended.

Hundreds of pamphlets, ballads and cartoons appeared against him. He was arrested and committed to the Tower. After his unfair and unjust trial for high treason; after his conviction without even being allowed counsel, and by a jury that was prejudiced against him, having one member who was the star witness for the prosecution, and who swore away his life, this minister on October 16th, 1660, was taken from the Tower to Charing Cross, where, after being compelled to witness the death of John Coke who was hanged by the neck and then cut down alive; whose bowels were taken out and burned; whose head was severed from his body; whose body was cut into four parts for permanent exhibition in as many places; and whose head was set upon a pole at the North end of Westminster Hall—after being compelled to witness such a ghastly sight, Hugh Peters was executed in the same barbarous manner and his head exhibited to the curious on London Bridge.

A man, tall and thin, active and sprightly, with high forehead and penetrating eyes which were well apart from each other, indicating honesty and strength of character; ready and original in speech; simple in his manner of living; broad-minded and catholic in spirit; loyal to his friends and magnanimous towards his enemies; generous with his gifts; thoughtful of others; interested in the highest welfare of his fellowmen; always a gentlemen; a man whose character was above reproach; whose life was ever devoted to noble ends, and whose triumphant and glorious death witnessed to his unswerving confidence in Jesus Christ to Whom, with a smiling countenance, as he was about to yield to the stroke of death, he prayed,-"I come to thee upon the wings of faith. Lord Jesus receive me with grace into the joy of my Lord. Amen." Such, in brief, was the man who preached the first sermon that was ever delivered in Wenham.

But our interest to-day centers not only in a distinguished preacher but also in preaching: not only in a great minister, but also in a great message.

We meet on this occasion to congratulate ourselves that since the day Hugh Peters, standing upon a little hill, within sight of yonder beautiful lake, spoke the words of life to earnest listeners, until this very day the Gospel has been preached within the bounds of this township.

It is a matter of congratulation also that the pastors of this old and historic church, from Rev. John Fiske, its first minister, to Rev. Dr. Morris H. Turk, my immediate predecessor, were for the most part, men of learning and piety.

John Fiske, a graduate of Immanual College, Cambridge, England; Joseph Gerrish, Robert Ward and John Warren, graduates of Harvard College: Adoniram Judson, a graduate of Brown; Rufus Anderson, a graduate of Dartmouth; Daniel Mansfield, a graduate of Amherst; John Smith Sewall, a graduate of Bangor Theological Seminary; Will Converse Wood, a graduate of Harvard and Andover and Morris H. Turk, a college graduate, an alumnus of the Theological Department of Boston University and also of its school of All Sciences:-these are the names of some of the pastors of this church, and the value of their services to this town and to the world is known only to God.

It was one of these scholarly and public-spirited men, (Jeremiah Taylor) who caused to be planted on both sides of our Main Street those beautiful trees which are so greatly admired and which add so much to the attractiveness of our village as well as comfort to beast and man. But it is also a matter of congratulation that the pastors of the other church located within the bounds of Wenham from the Reverend Charles Miller, its first minister, to the Reverend Frank Parker, its present incumbent, have been and are men of sterling worth, high ideals, unselfish motives, and faithful preachers of the Gospel.

All honor to that splendid company of men to whom I have just referred, and who have done not a little to make Wenham a desirable and a respectable place in which to live; who have done much to make it easy for people to do right and difficult to do wrong; and without whom and the Gospel which they proclaimed, Wenham would only be fit for the devil's cast-aways.

What has the preaching of the Gospel meant to this town since Hugh Peters came to tell its people the story of the Cross? Has it meant nothing to the people of Wenham that the pastors of these two local churches were men of liberal education, broad culture and deep piety?

Was it nothing to this community that the first minister of this church was not only a faithful preacher of the Gospel, but also a teacher of great learning and recognized ability and a skillful physician?

Physicians in those days were not as numerous as they are now. How much John Fiske did for the sick in this parish we do not know. But we have every reason to believe that he gladly responded to every call for medical aid.

What a valuable member of this community that man must have been! Fortunate were the people in those days to have had in their midst such a minister– a man of such varied accomplishments– a man who could preach, teach and practise medicine!

If there is general agreement among us today that the minister two hundred and fifty years ago was a needed and useful member of society, what shall we say about the community's need of the minister now?

Are preachers and preaching still essential to the highest welfare of mankind?

Have we arrived at that point in the progress of the race where the preaching of the Gospel can be dispensed with? Has the work of the minister been supplanted by the public press, by general education, by modern systems of ethics and philosophy, and by a so-called science which is neither scientific nor christian?

Has the Gospel outlived its usefulness?

That man-made creeds, over which our fathers so often quarrelled; that dogmas to which men clung with great tenacity; that irrational and unscriptural beliefs which were once held by sincere but misguided men; that false conceptions of God, of His relation to us and His plan for the human race, have become obsolete and out of date, I readily admit. But the Gospel —the good news which Jesus, more than nineteen hundred years ago, brought to earth, that God is with men and that His kingdom is at hand— is such a Gospel no longer needed?

Ask that aged man of great wealth whose only interests now are found within the walls of his sick-chamber!

Ask that mother whose wayward and wicked son has plucked from her countenance every beautiful rose of happiness, and has broken her heart!

Ask that poor widow who has been left with a family of little children to support and whose life is one of drudgery and care!

Ask that man, over whom an avalanch of trouble and sorrow has rolled; whose property has been swept away like the dew before the sun; and who feels that the very light of his life has gone out and that never again will he behold the sunshine of God's love and favor! Ask those who feel the burdening sense of guilt!

Ask the honest doubter! Ask yourself! And then tell me if you conscientiously can, that the Gospel is antiquated, obsolete and out of date.

I most devoutly believe that the Gospel, which was preached by the Apostles, is not only needed in these days, but also, that it is "the only good news worth the telling."

Dr. Jefferson has recently pointed out in an article published by "The Congregationalist" that bad news nowadays are industriously spread abroad.

"Murders, embezzlements, defalcations, divorce suits, scandals and railroad wrecks - all this is spread abroad by men organized for the purpose and who do their work with the fervor of prophets and the industry of apostles."

Surely to-day there are enough people who are employed in publishing bad news.

Those who are engaged in publishing the good news are none too many. If now the preaching of the Gospel, the publishing of good news that God is in this world, and that His kingdom is at hand, is an essential factor in the life and welfare of the community, then I submit that its inhabitants should support it more universally and more generously than they usually do. If we are in any sense indebted to Hugh Peters and to other men who preached the Gospel within the bounds of this township, let it not be forgotten that the people of to-day have some obligations to the men in this age who are learned, eloquent and faithful preachers of the Word of God. We need not apologize to-day for those splendid men who preached the Gospel in Wenham in days gone by.

And neither is there any occassion for apologizing for the ministers, as a whole, who are today the very salt of the earth and the light of the world.

Never since the days of the Apostles were the ministers of Christ more learned, scholarly and catholic; more loyal to their Master; more consecrated to their work and more self-sacrificing than now.

With all of my acquaintance with Christian ministers, in more than one denomination, during the past forty years, I have never known of one who refused to respond to any reasonable call for help and service.

Let the unthinking and ungodly man slander the good name of the minister, and the great-hearted, generous and forgiving minister will be the very first to help his enemy when misfortune and sorrow overtake him.

Today ministers preach the Gospel, not only when they stand behind the sacred desk on the holy Sabbath, but also when they visit the sick, pray with the dying, bury the dead and comfort the mourning.

The duties of the modern minister are not a few; his problems are often perplexing; his hours of labor are long; his work is hard; the demands upon his time are many; and his strength of body, mind and soul is taxed to the very utmost.

" 'Tis not a cause of small import,
The pastor's care demands,
But what might fill an angel's head
And filled a Savior's hands."

Why do I speak thus of the Christian pastors today? Because our young men, in so few numbers are entering the ministry, and because there will be no preaching of the Gospel when there are no preachers.

Sad will be the day when the doors of the churches are closed; when there are no ministers in the communities; and when the Gospel is not preached.

Any man who helps to close the doors of the christian church, who hinders the preaching of the Gospel, and who, in any way, prevents the christian minister from spreading abroad the good news of help in God and salvation in Jesus, is a very undesirable citizen and an enemy to the progress and welfare of the community.

I plead then today for the modern minister:- not for money but for mercy; not for compliments but for compassion; not for comforts but for charity.

I plead to-day for the modern minister;- not that you should have a deeper sense of appreciation of his value and worth in the community, but that you may make it possible for him to preach the Gospel, to tell the good news with his lips, hands, feet and life, and to hand down to your children and to mine and to coming generations a legacy of priceless value,- a knowledge of the love of God, unswerving faith in His eternal justice and goodness, and the glad tidings of the Lordship and companionship of Jesus who is, and always will be, the Gospel, the good news.

"O that the world would taste and see
The riches of His grace!
The arms of love that compass me
Would all mankind embrace.

His only righteousness I show,
His saving truth proclaim:
'Tis all my business here below,
To cry, "Behold the Lamb!"

Happy, if with my latest breath
I may but gasp His name;
Preach Him to all, and cry in death,
"Behold, behold the Lamb!"

DEDICATION

PETERS' HILL MEMORIAL

Sunday, October 25, 1908, was an eventful day in the quiet town of Wenham, and the memory of it will long linger in the minds of both citizens and visitors who were present at the dedicatory services at Wenham Lake, and in the Congregational Church. The weather conditions at the time were very favorable, it being one of those calm, quiet days which occasionally occur in the late autumn, with the sky slightly overcast, and a soft, balmy air; an ideal day for an out-of-doors gathering.

By the courtesy of the Boston and Northern Street Railway Company, free transportation from the village by special cars, was furnished for all who desired to attend the exercises at the Lake, and at the appointed hour quite a large company had gathered to witness and to participate in the exercises of the day.

From 1638 to 1908 seemed but a step, at least to some of the throng, as by the quiet lake side the voice of prayer and praise ascended as it did when the Reverend Hugh Peters first preached the Gospel to the early settlers.

At a few minutes past two o'clock, Mr. Arthur D. Prince, secretary of the Memorial Committee, called the assembly to order, and invited all present to join in singing the National hymn:

My Country, 'tis of thee
Sweet land of liberty
Of thee I sing.

At the conclusion of the singing, the divine blessing upon the exercises of the day was invoked by Rev. Abner D. Gorham, who has spent the greater part of his life in this place, and who was for twenty-nine years, (1863-1892,) pastor of the Baptist church at Wenham Neck.

Following the invocation, the responsive reading of the scriptures, as printed in the Order of Service, was conducted by Rev. Edwin A. Blake, Ph. D., pastor of the People's Union Church in South Hamilton, the congregation joining heartily in the exercise.

Extracts from the following report of the Memorial Committee were next read by Mr. Wellington Pool, Chairman of the Committee.

Report of the Memorial Committee.

We have met here to-day to dedicate a Memorial Bowlder and Tablet, commemorating the first preaching of the gospel in Wenham, about two hundred and seventy years ago, by the Reverend Hugh Peters, then pastor of the church in Salem.

In that early period, the feet of Hugh Peters, the eloquent preacher of St. Sepulchre's in London, pressed the ground whereon we now stand, and, choosing for his pulpit a small conical hill which sloped to the margin of the lake, he preached from John III: 23, "In Enon, near to Salim, because there was much water there." By that service, Hugh Peters in an especial manner consecrated this spot to the worship of Almighty God; and we to-day in dedicating this memorial re-consecrate it anew to the same high purpose. (See Appendix, Note A.)

Passing now over nearly two centuries, we find that in the year 1835, the question of erecting some memorial of that event in the early history of the town was being considered by the inhabitants, for, at the annual town meeting in that year, it was "Voted;–to relinquish the privilege the town has in Peters' Hill to the First Parish in Salem, for the purpose of erecting a monument to the memory of their distinguished divine, Hugh Peters, on condition that the said First Parish in Salem build, or cause to be built, or erected, a monument on the said Peters' Hill within three years from this day, March 3, 1835, otherwise, the said First Parish have no privilege to build on said hill."

By some means, the First Parish in Salem failed to avail itself of the privilege thus freely granted, and the next mention of Peters' Hill on the town records is in 1843, when Mr. Charles B. Lander of Danvers, having recently erected buildings for the storage of ice on land near by, was granted sufficient land adjacent to Peters' Hill for the construction of a railroad to connect his buildings with the main line of the Eastern Railroad. These buildings at first encroached but very little upon Peters' Hill, which was situated between them and the main highway. (See Appendix, Note B.) The first crop of ice was gathered during the winter of 1843-44. With the increase of the ice business, more land was required, and steps were soon taken by the Ice Company to secure Peters' Hill. The subject was brought up at the annual town meeting in March, 1844, when it was voted, not to sell Peters' Hill, twenty-two voting in the affirmative, and forty-two in the negative; but at an adjournment of this meeting held April 1, 1844, the vote not to sell the property was reconsidered, and it was then voted to sell the same, thirty-four in the affirmative, and twenty nine in the negative. Thus it will be seen, that, although there was considerable opposition to the sale, the utilitarian spirit finally prevailed, and Peters' Hill metaphorically speaking, was delivered into the hands of the Philistines.

In an article entitled, "Wenham Lake and the Ice Trade," by Rev. Alfred P. Putnam, D. D., of Danvers, published in a magazine called "Ice and Refrigeration," July, 1892, Dr. Putnam refers in a very interesting manner to the story of Peters' Hill, or "Peters' Pulpit" as it was frequently called. After a brief reference to the beginning of the ice business at this place, he continues as follows:

"On the northeastern margin of Wenham Lake once stood a small, grassy, conical hill which for more than two centuries has been regarded as an object of peculiar, sacred interest, for it was upon the summit of that little eminence, whence one could look down into pellucid depths below, and immediately around upon a diversified and most enchanting scene of nature, that the celebrated Hugh Peters preached a famous sermon from the text, "In Enon, near to Salim, because there was much water there." John 3 : 23. The Wenham settlement was then called Enon; it was but a few miles from Salem itself, and it certainly had a bountiful supply of water." (See Appendix, Note C.) "A multitude came from all the surrounding region to hear the great preacher, then associated with Roger Williams in the pastorate of the church in Salem, as he eloquently proclaimed the word of God there under the open sky, and from that pulpit 'not made with hands.' Through years and generations numberless pilgrims had found their way thither and there tried to recall the picture as it presented itself in that early period; at the same time they remembered the sad fate of the central object of interest as he returned to England, and for his conspicuous alliance with Cromwell and the Puritans was publicly executed in a most barbarous manner at Charing Cross in London in 1660, after the restoration of Charles II. The spot should have been held as consecrated ground forevermore, and a monument erected upon it to the memory of the man whose presence and word had so hallowed it, and by whose martyrdom had made it more holy still."

Referring to the sale of Peters' Hill, Dr. Putnam says: "there was some opposition to the sale, and about forty years ago, the late Edmund Kimball, Esq. of Wenham, told him how that he (Esquire Kimball) had then appeared before his assembled fellow citizens and pleaded with them with tears in his eyes, that they would spurn the paltry sum which had been offered as the price, and keep inviolate the consecrated mound." But it was all in vain. It was voted to sell it, and the deed conveying the property to Mr. Lander was dated April 11, 1844.

Dr. Putnam further states that during a recent conversation with the venerable George Wheatland, Esq., President of the Essex Institute at Salem, and formerly a member of the Ice Company, "Mr. Wheatland recalled with regret that he himself had ordered and superintended the work of demolition. And 'Enon, near to Salim' now regrets quite as much that she ever gave her consent. But she has since done the best she could under the circumstances, by adopting a town seal with the figure of a hillock in the centre, beyond which is a view of the water and of the high banks opposite, forming a very neat and appropriate design."

As previously stated, several ice-houses had already been built on land adjoining Peters' Hill. The Ice Company had also purchased the old meeting-house of the Congregational Church, and removed it to the lake where it was placed by the side of the other buildings, and close to the westerly side of the hill. (See Appendix, Note D.) Soon after the hill had passed into the possession of the Ice Company, it was completely leveled, and other ice-houses were erected on the spot covering nearly its entire site, the old meeting house being the fifth in a series of ten large buildings. (See Appendix, Note E.) The ice-cutting business was carried on here every winter until on Sunday evening, Nov. 9, 1873, the entire plant was totally destroyed by the most spectacular fire which has ever occurred in Wenham. For a few years after the destruction of these buildings the Company continued its work here, stacking the ice in temporary buildings, but the business was finally all removed to other places. It now seems a great pity that, after the discontinuance of the ice business at this place, the town neglected to regain possession of this historic spot, and convert it into a park to be kept and maintained forever as a public reservation for the use and benefit of all the inhabitants, and there are those to-day who still entertain hopes that this may yet be accomplished.

The subject of erecting some memorial commemorating the first preaching of the gospel in Wenham has frequently been talked of in an informal manner by individuals interested in antiquarian matters, but the first movement to bring the subject before the town for consideration was made by Mr. Benjamin H. Conant in 1902. Mr. Conant, having occasion to appear before the Finance and Advisory Committee of the town in the interest of the public library, at that time expressed a desire that something might be done to mark the site of Peters' Hill during the lifetime of those then living who had personal recollections concerning its location and general appearance. He also, at the same time suggested that the ancient mile-stone in front of the cemetery ought to have some protection from possible injury from passing vehicles. (See Appendix, Note F.) Both of these suggestions received favorable consideration by the Finance and Advisory Committee, and an article embodying them was inserted in the warrant for the annual town meeting of that year, (1902.) Under this article it was: Voted "1st, to instruct the Selectmen to protect the Old Mile-Stone in front of the cemetery by removal of the same to the cemetery wall, or, by placing a suitable curb on either side, and that the expense be charged to the town incidentals."

"2nd, Voted that the subject of marking the site of Peters' Hill be referred to Benjamin H. Conant and Wellington Pool, and that they be requested to confer with the officers of the Ladies' Village Improvement Society, and report at the next town meeting whether the site of Peters' Hill should be marked, and if so, how, and by whom, and, if by the town, at what estimated expense."

The first part of the above vote was carried into effect during the summer of 1902, while the cemetery wall was being relaid.

At the annual town meeting in 1903, Mr. Wellington Pool made a verbal report for the committee appointed the previous year to confer with the officers of the Village Improvement Society in relation to the Peters' Hill memorial, in which he stated that after several conferences with them, it was for good and sufficient reasons deemed best that the entire expense and management of erecting the memorial should be assumed by the town. In regard to the particular form or style of the memorial to be erected, it was the opinion of the committee that a bronze tablet, suitably inscribed and placed upon a large bowlder would be a very appropriate manner of marking this spot.

It was further reported that a bowlder of suitable size and shape for this purpose was situated upon an outcropping ledge within a short distance, upon land belonging to Dr. John C. Phillips, who is also the present owner of the site of Peters' Hill. Mr. Pool had had some correspondence with Dr. Phillips upon the subject with the result that liberty was freely granted to take this bowlder for the purpose indicated, and to remove it to the site of Peters' Hill, provided it could be moved without material damage to the land of said Phillips.

The report of the committee was accepted, and on recommendation of the Finance and Advisory Committee it was voted: "1st, That the sum of two hundred dollars be raised and appropriated for the removal of a bowlder on land of John C. Phillips to the site of Peters' Hill, so called, and for the suitable grading of said site, and marking said bowlder in honor of Rev. Hugh Peters, who preached the first sermon in this town on that site."

"2nd, Voted; That the Board of Selectmen and citizens Wellington Pool and Benjamin H. Conant be a special committee to carry out this purpose."

Mr. George E. Norris was subsequently added to this committee.

During the next few years but little was accomplished except in a general way by interviews with the older citizens of the town, and by examinations of the ground in order to locate the boundaries of the hill as nearly as possible. In June, 1905, Prof. John H. Sears of the Peabody Academy of Science in Salem, made a critical examination of the bowlder, a report of which he later embodied in the following communication.

Peters' Hill Memorial.

The proposed Bowlder to mark the spot where Hugh Peters delivered the first sermon in the town of Wenham, Massachusetts.

This bowlder is a glacial erratic, that was removed from the original ledge of which it was a part, probably in West Andover, Massachusetts, or Pelham, New Hampshire, as there is no similar rock nearer than these places in the line of glaciation, which is everywhere in the region apparent by the scratched and striated surfaces of ledges. These scratches are invariably from the Northwest to the Southeast, and consequently, in this Northwest course the only ledges of this rock are in the places above named. The bowlder was without doubt imbedded in the bottom of the glacial Ice Cap which covered New England during the Glacial Period, and which was at least one thousand feet thick over Essex County. This bowlder probably produced some of the scratches and rounded surfaces of outcropping ledges, thus giving us a guide to trace its course from the parent ledge to its present resting place on the shore of Wenham Lake. This bowlder is well worthy of being preserved as a geological specimen, a relic of the work of the great Ice Age, its well rounded surfaces which show deep scratches, fine striae, and even polished areas due to its being moved overand across the bed-rock in its passage, is a marvel that has been preserved for our inspection and study, and that future generations may see such a remarkable specimen.

There have been numbers of similar bowlders known to the writer in various parts of our county, that have been destroyed by being broken up to form material for stone walls, and thus lost for future study.

The rock, by measurements taken, shows that it contains approximately one hundred and ten cubic feet, and as this form of rock is known to have twelve cubic feet in a ton, the weight of it would exceed nine tons.

The composition of the bowlder is much quartz and feldspar, with horneblende and muscovite mica as essential minerals, also accessory minerals, garnet, biotite, magnetite and limonite, this last mineral giving the rock its reddish or pink color. The minerals are arranged in bands or layers, giving the bowlder a distinctly gneissic character. Thus the rock is what is popularly known as a foliated muscovite biotite granite.

Towards the latter part of February, 1908, the bowlder was successfully removed from its original position to land belonging to the town near the exact site of Peters' Hill, and during the summer following a massive foundation of stone and cement some six feet in depth was constructed, upon which the bowlder was placed. A considerable quantity of material for properly grading the surrounding land was furnished gratuitously by the Street Railway Co., which was at that time engaged in relaying its track through the town.

The bowlder, having been duly placed in position, the committee next considered the preparation of an appropriate inscription for the tablet. The task of compressing the desired subject matter into the most concise form was found to be somewhat perplexing, and although several forms of inscriptions were submitted by members of the committee, no one of them appeared to be wholly satisfactory. The inscription finally accepted was written by Mrs. Walter S. Eaton, to which was subsequently added a sentence by Mr. Conant, and in this amended form was adopted by the unanimous vote of the committee. The inscription as amended reads as follows :–

"This Stone marks the site of Peters' Hill on which, about the year 1638, Reverend Hugh Peters, Pastor of the church in Salem, Preached the First Sermon in Wenham. Text from John III : 23, 'In Enon, near to Salim, because there was much water there'."

"Thus early in the History of the Town was the Gospel proclaimed."

Erected by the Town, 1908.

The duty of procuring the tablet and of having it placed upon the bowlder was assigned by the committee to Mr. Pool, who, after making due investigations, awarded the contract for making the casting to the Albert Russell and Sons Co. of Newburyport, Mass.

The completed tablet of bronze, twenty four by thirty eight inches in size, was received by the committee September 23, and a few days later was placed upon the bowlder.

The memorial being now completed, arrangements for the dedicatory exercises were next in order. By the unanimous vote of the committee, Rev. Walter S. Eaton, Ph. D., pastor of the Congregational Church in Wenham, was invited to deliver the sermon on that occasion. It was also voted to invite the pastor of the First Church in Salem, as the successor of Hugh Peters, to take some part in the exercises. Messrs. Pool and Prince were appointed a sub-committee to consult with Dr. Eaton and arrange the further details of the programme.

Although the Peters' Hill memorial was designed and erected under the direct auspices of the town, it was, on account of its distinctly religious character, deemed eminently fitting that the dedicatory exercises should be held upon the sabbath. We are, therefore, on this beautiful Sunday afternoon, here assembled to consecrate and dedicate this memorial bowlder and tablet in commemoration of the fact that in the earliest history of our town, the everlasting gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ was freely proclaimed to all the inhabitants thereof.

Unveiling of the Tablet.

The next feature on the programme was the unveiling of the tablet which until this time had been concealed beneath a large American flag which covered the entire bowlder. Miss Blanche Stanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Stanton, now stepped forward and released the fastenings, when, as if by its own volition, the flag arose and floated majestically over the scene, while a sigh of satisfaction went up from the waiting audience which had stood so reverently during the service, and many pressed forward to examine the tablet which until this time had been hidden from view.

The exercises at the lake being now concluded, special cars were in readiness to convey the people to the Congregational Church, where the remaining services were to be held.

The exercises at the church began with an Organ Prelude, Mr. Benjamin H. Conant, who for forty-five years has served as organist of the church, presiding.

The singing of the hymns by the congregation led by a large volunteer choir, and accompanied by the full organ was extremely inspiring. Rev. Peter H. Goldsmith, D. D., pastor of the First Church in Salem read selections from the scriptures in voice and manner befitting the occasion, and the prayer by Rev. Frank Parker, pastor of the Baptist Church at Wenham Neck, carried the worshippers to a higher plane as he voiced the thanks of the people for mercies past and petitions for the future welfare of Wenham.

Following the prayer, Miss Mary E. Quinby of Wenham, sang in a very acceptable manner "The Good Shepherd," a fine musical setting of the twenty-third Psalm.

The sermon by Rev. Dr. Eaton, (printed in full elsewhere in this pamphlet,) received the close attention of the congregation throughout its delivery.

After the singing of the doxology by the choir and congregation, the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Abner D. Gorham.

The entire service was ably presided over by Mr. Arthur D. Prince, Secretary of the Memorial Committee.

A large congregation including many friends from neighboring towns, was present at the service, at the close of which the committee received many congratulations upon the success of the undertaking.

Ice Houses at Wenham Lake.

On and adjacent to the site of Peters' Hill.

The Ice business was begun at this place in 1843 by Mr. Charles B. Lander of Danvers. After the first year or two, several other gentlemen became associated with Mr. Lander, and carried on the business under various titles until about 1850, when it was sold to Messrs. Gage, Hittenger & Co., of Boston. In 1859 the firm name was changed to Addison Gage & Co., under which title the business was continued until its removal from Wenham about 1880. This company carried on a large business, gathering its ice from several other localities as well as from Wenham Lake. It is said that from 1860 to 1880 it harvested from Wenham Lake alone an annual average of thirty thousand tons.

When the business was first begun, the ice was conveyed on sleds from where it was cut to the houses, and then hoisted into the buildings by horse power. A few years later, long inclines of very gradual ascent were constructed from the water to the buildings, up which the ice was drawn by horses, a large number being thus employed. About 1866, steam power was introduced, and extensive repairs were made on the buildings, some of them being enlarged and practically rebuilt. In the picture the buildings are shown as they were at this time, the steam elevator being at the extreme left.

For many years the works at this place were under the charge of Mr. John I. Durgin, who had at times as many as three hundred men in his employ.

After the burning of the buildings in 1873, the business was continued somewhat less vigorously for several years, the ice being stored in temporary stacks. About 1880 the Gage Company discontinued its plant at this place. The ice cutting business, however, is still carried on by several other companies at other parts of the lake.

APPENDIX.

Note A.

The exact date of the first sermon in Wenham has never been fully determined, except that it must have been between 1636 and 1641, while Hugh Peters was pastor of the Salem church.

In regard to the early settlement of Wenham, Felt, in his "Annals of Salem" states that "there are no sufficient data to show precisely when this place began to be inhabited." There is a tradition, however, that the first settlers were Austin Killam, Richard Goldsmith, and one of the Fisk brothers, and that they came about the year 1635. During the next few years grants of land in this vicinity were quite numerous, and the population had increased to such an extent that in 1643 it was incorporated as a separate town.

Note B.

In relation to the site of Peters' Hill, the general consensus of opinion among those of the older citizens who have recollections concerning the locality, is that it occupied the ground immediately in the rear of the memorial stone, covering approximately one third of an acre, upon which, after its demolition, the first four ice-houses as shown in the picture, were erected, the eastern wall of the nearest building being but a few feet distant from the stone; that the hillside next to the water was quite steep, and that the height was such that a person standing on the summit could view the landscape over the ridgepole of the buildings previously erected on the western side.

Note C.

It has been generally believed that this place received the name "Enon" previous to the sermon by Peters, though no documentary evidence in proof of this has been discovered.

Rev. Will C. Wood, a former pastor of the Wenham Congregational Church, in a sermon on Hugh Peters delivered in 1873, raised the question whether the name Enon, as applied to this place, "did not have its origin in the fruitful and original mind of Peters," "Peters" he says "was not a mind to follow another. There would have been far less originality in taking his text if some one before him had already named the place from its waters and its proximity to Salem. He certainly seems to have taken the text originally, and therefore we may fairly conclude he was original in its application. Having then no previous record, we cannot but think that Enon was suggested by Peters himself.

The fact that the earliest mention of the name on the Salem Town Records is in 1642, more than a year after Peters had returned to England, and that all previous grants of land in this vicinity were described as being at or near the great pond, would seem to give some degree of plausibility to this view.

Note D.

The present meeting house of the Congregational Church was built in 1843, and dedicated December 20, of that year, Rev. Daniel Mansfield, the pastor, preaching the sermon on that occasion. This sermon was afterwards printed. Mr. Mansfield also published two very valuable historical sermons which he delivered in October, 1844, on the two hundredth anniversary of the organization of the church.

The old meeting house in which the people of Wenham had worshipped for almost a century, stood a short distance south of the present edifice, on the eastern end of what is now known as "The Park." The last service in the old building was held October 15, 1843. The farewell sermon, which unfortunately has not been preserved, was preached by Mr. Mansfield, and the following hymn, presumably written for the occasion by some unknown author, was sung.

"Arise ye people of the Lord,
Arise, for this is not your rest,
Depart, obey your Master's word,
And seek the mansions of the blest.

This house of prayer so early reared
By those who bowed and worshipped God,
To them and us has been endeared
As oft its sacred courts we've trod.

Here holy men have preached and prayed,
Here rich instruction hath been given,
Here sovereign grace hath been displayed,
And precious souls been trained for heaven.

Here oft has age with snowy hair
And strength and beauty urged their plea,
Here children too, have raised their prayer,
Their thanks and praises, Lord, to Thee.

But now the last sad hour has come,
And we no longer here may dwell,
These walls, these seats, this hallowed dome,
We bid them all Farewell, Farewell."

A few weeks later, in November of that year, the old building, having been sold to the Ice Company, was removed to the lake to be used thenceforth as an ice house.

Note E.

On the building nearest the highway there was a belfry containing a bell which was rung to indicate the hours for beginning and leaving off work. After a few years its use was discontinued, and the bell removed. It was still there, however, in 1847, when it was tolled for the funeral of Rev. Daniel Mansfield, who died April 8th and was buried April 12th of that year. Mr. Mansfield was highly esteemed not only by his own church and town, but by all the churches and clergy in the vicinity, as was evinced by the large number present at the funeral service, filling the church to its full capacity. The sermon on this occasion was by Rev. Brown

Emerson, D. D., of Salem, from the text, Rev. 14 : 13. At the conclusion of the service the people passed in front of the pulpit, and took a last look at the face of their beloved pastor whose voice of instruction, admonition and prayer they would hear no more.

Six clergymen acted as pall-bearers, and as the long procession, escorted by a large number of the young men of the village wearing crape on their left arms, slowly wended its way to the old burying ground, the bell at the lake, on the site of Peters' Hill mingled its tones with those which mournfully tolled from the church tower in the village, while the sacred remains were reverently laid to rest on the hill-side, overlooking the same beautiful landscape which Hugh Peters had viewed so many years before.

Note F.

There are three of these ancient mile-stones on the main highway between the Beverly and Hamilton lines, each of them bearing the same date, 1710. These stones have attracted much attention from strangers passing through the town, especially the one near the entrance to the old burying ground, on which, in addition to the usual distance directions, is inscribed in the quaint orthography of the olden time, a verse of scripture appropriate to its situation, Job 30 : 23, "I know thou wilt bring me to death and to the house appointed for all living."

About forty years ago, the inscriptions, which in the course of time had become nearly illegible, were at the instance of a descendant of one of the early inhabitants of the town, recut, following carefully the original cutting, and during the present year they have been made still more legible by painting the letters and figures.

By what authority these stones were placed here we have no definite knowledge, and this note is inserted in the hope that some person who may chance to read it may be able to throw some light upon the subject.

The illustrations in this pamphlet are from photographs by Benjamin H. Conant. The picture of Hugh Peters appeared in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register for January, 1851, and the ice houses was copied from a picture in possession of Mr. Horace E. Durgin.
